

She's a poet who writes for her own 'amusement'

Winnifred Bedlington loves to write, and her latest testimony to that love is her new book called Verses

By Joe Banks Staff Writer

At first glance, Winnifred Bedlington may look to you like a shy lady who has led a quiet life, never having the inclination or curiosity to get to know the outdoors.

But take a closer look by exchanging a few words with the 96-year-old writer and you'll realize looks can be deceiving.

You see, Mrs. Bedlington is a lover of the outdoors. As a matter of fact, she loves life, and that is exactly what inspires her to write poetry.

And the latest testimony to Mrs. Bedlington's ability to set down on paper what she feels came in the form of a book called Verses, which was compiled and paid to be published by some of her friends and relatives.

"They were kind enough to see some merit in things that I just have written," she admits. "But these things were written only for my own amusement."

She is a summer resident in Lutterworth Township and lives in Oakville during the rest of the year. Her father owned The Minden Recorder in the early 1900s, and, being born in Haliburton County in the spring of 1882, she came to develop a fondness of the area which lasted throughout a lifetime.

At the age of 11, Mrs. Bedlington went to the ladies college in Whitby, and four years later, came to Toronto to study piano and voice at the Conservatory of Music.

She was married in 1902 and moved to Oakville. Her husband died suddenly in 1935 at the age of 51 and their only son was killed during World War II.

Since then, Mrs. Bedlington has been writing "compulsively" for several years, often putting some of her pieces on scraps of paper or bags when writing paper was not handy.

Four acquaintances of Mrs. Bedlington's wanted the poems published. They asked her to choose which ones she thought most appropriate.

"I didn't feel capable of evaluating what I wrote and I really don't know what people like to read," she modestly admits.

'I remember the loggers'

As a result, these friends took several of Mrs. Bedlington's poems they thought most appropriate, and had them printed in a book.

"Choose! Choose, choose! Everything had to be chosen and separately paid for. And I really didn't know what was in the book until it came out!"

But when it did come out, she admits that she was quite "surprised". The greater part of the book had been done during the summer, when Mrs. Bedlington was spending most of her time near Gull Lake.

Most of the poems in the book are of various situations and thoughts Mrs. Bedlington has assembled on paper. But a far away expression comes across the aged face when she recalls inspiration from her poem, Cook Tent.

"I remember the loggers," she said, "at the foot

"These things were written only for my own amusement," said Winnifred Bedlington of her new book of published poems called Verses. The 96-year old Lutterworth summer resident has written most of her life, and expects to do so until she can no longer "express" herself.

of Gull Lake. They liked people, ate pemikan and drank green tea." The poem is as follows:

Spring's come bustling in,
And the lake is full of logs.
The cook tent's up
And the cook is there
With Cookee and a couple of dogs.
The men on the timbers eye the raft
And they'll be in, you'll see,
To get a slice of raisin pie
And a basin of strong, green tea.

Waves are slopping up on the raft
(It will be rough in the bay);
But the cook tent's dry
And the stove is lit,
So if you're out this way,
Tie your boat to a marlin spike
(And since it is all for free)
Come in for a slice of raisin pie
And a basin of strong, green tea.

There are others in the book.

But Mrs. Bedlington would make sure you understand why she wrote the poems if you obtain one from her directly. She never wanted to become rich and famous, nor did she necessarily write poetry for other eyes.

"I had no other reason to write," she says, "except to get something out of my system and express it on paper."

The weather forecast over the next few days predicts a little more snow with the temperatures turning a little milder, but as the weekend approaches, the temperature will turn colder. Environment Canada meteorology technician Dave Irwin at Peterborough said Haliburton County has received 13 centimetres of snow to date this winter season.

Colder weather coming in next few days

Winter arrives in Haliburton

Snowfall in Haliburton County over the past few days has reached an estimated 13 centimetres or six inches, according to Environment Canada meteorology technician Dave Irwin at Peterborough.

The snow began falling last Thursday when the first winter storm hit the area dumping 7.4 centimetres of snow in the County. The accumulation of snow varies throughout the County somewhat with the southern part of Haliburton County receiving less snowfall than the northern portion.

Irwin said snowfall has varied by two centimetres from southern to northern locations.

The forecast over the next few days predicts a little more snow with the temperatures turning a little milder to around -4 degrees Celsius. As the weekend approaches, the temperature will turn colder.

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications report driving conditions are fair with the highways in Haliburton County remaining snow covered with center bare to bare sections.

Visibility is fair to poor at times with blowing snow, a spokesman for the Ministry at Bancroft said.

County economic study underway

Breakdowns hit

Minden arena

Public skating, hockey and figure skating is being delayed at the Minden arena due to a rash of breakdown problems at the facility.

Arena officials are unsure of what the real problem is. However, last week it was reported that the motor had broken down in the compressor, which is the mechanism that keeps the ice frozen. Now, problems with the elec-study in Haliburton County and are expected to make its initial report to county council at its inaugural meeting, December 19.

Senior Planner, John Perry said Tuesday his Ministry is now gathering background information for the study, which will focus on the growing recreation and tourism industry in Haliburton County. Rural and resource development, such as uranium prospects in the County's southwest region, will also be analyzed.

Perry said the Ministry staff will make progress reports to County council at its monthly meetings and is expected to complete the work by February.

The study will document current County trends, present a general assessment of future economic development and forward a number of recommendations for local action. It is expected to take eight to 12 weeks to complete the document.

It is expected to provide additional information which would add more insight in development by coupling it with the already approved development strategy.

Ministry staff will be interviewing tourist operators, recreational developers, councillors and businessmen during the compiling of data for the study.

Staff from the Ministry have had initial meetings with municipal politicians in Haliburton County.

Interested individuals form committee to investigate proposed summer day camp

A committee has been formed in Haliburton Village to organize a proposed summer day camp, which would offer a varied program of crafts, sports, swimming lessons and theatre for youngsters seven to 12 years of age.

The day camp would be operated in co-operation with Sir Sandford Fleming College with all the courses being offered through the college.

The camp will operate daily Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. during July and August in the village. The program will cost a total of $25 per child per week and the fee is tax deductible. A family rate is under consideration by the committee.

Any interested parents wanting more information can talk to organizers in the upstairs of the Dysart Community Centre on Saturday, December 2 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. or on Monday, December 4 at Lakeview School at 7:30 p.m.

A meeting was conducted last Wednesday at Lakeview Centre and 12 persons attended.

Haliburton merchants forming business group

Merchants in Haliburton Village have decided to form a Businessmen's Association to provide a stronger voice for its members in the affairs of the community.

A steering committee was appointed last Wednesday to get the ball rolling in the formation of an association after 18 merchants, who attended a meeting at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School, expressed interest in creating a merchants organization.

Elected to the committee were Mike Easton, Vince Connaughan, Paulette Blake, Grant Rae and Doug Moore.

The merchants expressed a desire to have the Hydro poles removed from the main street, better lighting installed in the downtown area, more free parking established by the Municipality, a pedestrian cross walk created half way down the main street, two walkways connecting the downtown area with off-street parking spots and the parking meters changed to allow for a maximum time of two hours parking.

The association would be a connecting link between municipal officials and the merchants, explained Vince Connaughan. "Now is the time to let the elected representatives know what we would like."

The meeting began with opening remarks by Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce manager Bob Stinson, who re-iterated the results of the survey taken this past summer.

It revealed that many good practices exist, which should be maintained, and, at the same time, showed many minor ills, which can be corrected. Erection of signs indicating the location of off-street parking areas, identifying routes to shopping areas and pointing out local park sites for visitors, the survey suggested could be accomplished with little difficulty.

Applying a coat of paint to the storefronts would give business areas a pleasant facelift, the survey revealed, and making a greater effort to keep the streets and sidewalks neat and tidy.

The merchants at the meeting broke off into three discussion groups, which consisted of a formation of business association group, a downtown renewal - Business Improvement Association Program group and a municipal relations group.

Later in the meeting, the groups, through a spokesman, reported back to the full meeting the results of their group discussions.

Mike Easton, who headed the business association group, said the participants in his discussion favoured the formation of an association to provide a stronger voice for the merchants.

"If we (the merchants) don't get together now," he stated, "we will fall apart." He suggested the merchants should compile a list of who they donate money towards and conducted seminars to help each individual merchant deal with shoplifting and fraud through the issuing of bad cheques to the merchants. The cost of membership in the association, he said, would likely be in the $20 to $25 a year range.

Connaughan, who chaired the municipal relations group, said the merchants should provide input to the Municipality towards changes in the business areas. "If we (the merchants) don't do anything now," he commented, "the Municipality will go ahead on its own." He cited the removal of the Hydro poles as an example of the merchants expressing their desires to the elected officials.

As alternatives to having the poles on the main street, he suggested, the establishment of underground power lines or moving the poles to behind the stores on the main street.

The lighting on the main street should be upgraded, he said, because at the present time "it is not adequate". The parking meters should be changed to allow a maximum time of two hours parking, he suggested. "Possibly the Municipality should supply more free parking," he said.

Creation of walkways from off-street parking spots to the main street would improve the business area, he explained. One walkway, which already exists at the Ceno-

Driver made unsafe lane change

Bobcaygeon man charged

A 35-year-old Bobcaygeon resident, Wilbert Anderson, was charged by Provincial Police at the Minden detachment with making an unsafe lane change following a two-vehicle mishap last Wednesday at 4:29 p.m. on Highway 35 at Minden.

Anderson was northbound on the four-lane portion of the highway driving in the passing lane, while another northbound vehicle, driven by Keith Rowden, 25, of RR 1, Haliburton, was travelling in the driving lane. Anderson turned into the driving lane and struck the Rowden vehicle, which rolled onto its side.

Damage to the Anderson vehicle, a 1976 truck, was estimated by police at $400, while the Rowden vehicle, a 1972 dump truck, received $3,000 damage.

Provincial constable Barry Connelly investigated the mishap.

Damage was estimated at $1,100 in a two-car accident last Thursday at 2:45 p.m. on Highway 121, west of Hal-burton Village.

A northbound car, driven by John Craig of Lochlin, went out of control on the highway and became stuck in the east ditch. The driver of another northbound car, Stephen Thorlakson, 80, of Minden, lost control of his vehicle and struck the rear of the Craig car. Craig was trying to get a tow truck at the time of the collision.

Damage to the Thorlakson car was estimated at $600, while the Craig vehicle received $500 damage.

Organization has 12 members

Food co-op started

A food co-operative has been started in Haliburton Village with 12 members enrolled in the organization. Organizers are now ordering foods.

The co-op will be temporarily based at the Health Food Store on Highland Street in Haliburton and will be operated by the owner of the establishment, Ellen Brown. It is the result of an idea by Pam Brown, who is also involved in the Co-op project.

taph, could be upgraded and a second constructed at the Bank of Montreal, he revealed.

"We should encourage individual store owners to advise employees where to park," he commented.

He suggested the establishment of a truck route around the downtown area with signs erected to encourage drivers to use it. The problem of trucks unloading goods on the main street, he said, could be helped by the drivers displaying more courtesy towards the shoppers.

Marshall Leighton, head of the downtown renewal group, suggested the merchants begin with a small project. "We should start with something small," he said. "But we should give it (downtown renewal) some thought before reaching any decisions."

Post-secondary information available

Parents and graduating students are invited to attend a post-secondary school information session to be held Tuesday, December 5, at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School from 7 to 9 p.m.

University, community college and manpower representatives will be at the post-secondary school to discuss post-secondary opportunities with interested parents and students.

Guidance teachers from the school will be in attendance to help students locate the individuals they wish to talk to about post-secondary information.

trical control panel are being encountered.

Repairs from Peterborough arrived last Tuesday to install the new motor in the compressor, and repairs to the panel should be completed by Thursday. The arena should be open again for skating at least for the upcoming weekend. "It's like the back of a T.V. set - there's just so many parts," an arena spokesman admitted.

as well. Brohm approached Brown about the idea, and the two Haliburton women collaborated on the project. A meeting was set up for interested persons and proposals for the co-op were put forward resulting in the establishment of the project.

Two orders, which will mainly consist of health food, have been placed by Brown so far. However, she says the order "will be doubled in two weeks after we get a new price list in."

The women eventually hope to sell canned goods and other foods as well as the health food in the co-op.

"We're thinking of supplying other things," said Brown.

The co-op committee is in the process now of organizing a Christmas supper to which the members of the market will be invited. Anyone else interested in attending is also invited.

"You can get to know an awful lot of people through a co-op," she said, "it's important as a meeting place."

"It certainly helped me in meeting people," she added. Brown is charging an extra 18 per cent per product to pay for the meeting hall where the co-op members have met and for bookkeeping and other expenses. "Hopefully, we can build up a little bit of a bank account to help pay for all this," she said.

There is a $20 initial fee which prospective members must pay. But after you're in, says Brown, "you're not only getting cheaper food, but of better quality."

Anyone interested in joining is asked to call Ellen Brown at 754-2828.

AHM approves bylaw to regulate sound emission

After three years of rejecting it, Anson, Hindon and Minden council approved a noise bylaw last Wednesday.

The bylaw is designed to regulate the emission of sound within a municipality and covers most industrial, commercial and residential noises.

The bylaw will control noises emitted from the operation of motor vehicles, construction equipment, electronic devices, snow making equipment and car-washes. Power tools, pet noise and use of firearms and models with combustion engines are also covered.

Council accepted the bylaw in its entirety. However, suggested times when these noises are prohibited were amended by council. The prohibition times are listed below:

Fireworks - prohibited at all times.
Models with combustion engines - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 9 a.m.
Electronic devices such as loudspeakers or amplifiers - prohibited from 12 p.m. to 9 a.m.
Signalling devices such as horns or sirens - prohibited from 12 p.m. to 9 a.m.

Motor vehicles other than those operated on roads - prohibited from midnight to 9 p.m.

Air release from valves or air systems - prohibited from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.
Noises emitted from domestic pets - 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.
Car washes - prohibited from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Yelling, hooting or other verbal noisemaking - prohibited from 12 p.m. to 7 a.m.
Operation of gliders or airfoils - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Snow making equipment - prohibited from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m.
Advertising or notifying through outcrying - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 9 a.m.

Unloading or refuse or articles - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Operation of construction equipment - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.
Operation of domestic tools other than snow removers - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m., and extended to 9 a.m. on Sundays.

Operation of compacting or disposal equipment - prohibited from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Exemptions to the bylaw will consist of public works vehicles and operations, fairs in the area and religious festivities. Persons can make application to the municipality to exempt themselves from the bylaw for certain reasons.

The first draft of the model bylaw was circulated in 1975 to all Ontario municipalities for their consideration and use. The document was subsequently revised and reissued in 1976. Municipal council, until now, continually rejected the bylaw since that time. Some 10 municipalities have now adopted a noise control bylaw.

The idea for the bylaw was first started in 1974, when the Minister of the Environment announced he would assist municipalities to control noise in their communities. The province provided a model municipal noise control bylaw for their guidance and assisted in the training facilities and acoustics technology training manuals.

Boundary needs adjusting

The Provincial Government should re-examine its use of the French River as a boundary between Northern and Southern Ontario, according to Victoria-Haliburton MLA John Eakins.

Adjustment of the boundaries would aid Haliburton County so that it could receive a much needed economic stimulus, such as Department of Regional Economic Expansion (DREE) funding.

He called for Provincial Treasurer Frank Miller to consider the province's position. Miller said that he felt that both Haliburton and Muskoka should be given consideration for DREE funding and indicated his interest to work to this end.

Eakins has indicated on numerous occasions that the Davis Government should not always use the French River as a boundary between Northern and Southern Ontario. "I think it needs a bit of re-thinking," he told The Echo in an interview.

He said that there is no area of Ontario deserving a higher priority for federal and provincial assistance than Haliburton County.

The provincial member said that he would certainly co-operate with the federal member, William Scott, to ensure a more appropriate basis of funding for Haliburton County.

OPP investigate mishaps

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated five reportable and three non-reportable motor vehicle collisions during the November 20 to 26 activity period.

Police recorded 86 general occurrences, reported four break-ins, charged two persons with liquor licence act violations, delivered two compassionate messages and charged a person with impaired driving.

Participate in Canada's Employment Tax Credit Program.

The Employment Tax Credit Program was introduced by the Government of Canada to stimulate employment in the private sector.

In essence, we're encouraging you to expand your work force by providing a tax break for your business.

The potential annual tax credit for each new employee is over $3,000. And there is no limit to the number of new employees you can hire.

Now, by using the experience we've gained so far, we've changed the program to make it even more attractive.

Up to 33 1/3% more tax credit.

The maximum term for the tax credit has been increased from nine to 12 months for each new employee. That means up to 33 1/3% more tax credit.

Greater eligibility.

We have expanded the number and types of businesses eligible to benefit. Now almost every business that's been operating in Canada for a year or more can join in.

Wider choice of new employees.

Now, almost anyone who's unemployed and registered at a Canada Employment Centre for a minimum of two weeks is eligible.

A minimum of red tape.

We've simplified the procedure, so you can do the whole thing, from beginning to end, with just two single-page forms.

For full details on the program, contact any Canada Employment Centre/Canada Manpower Centre.

When you buy Canadian-made products, you create jobs in Canada.

That's why Ontario urges you to Shop Canadian.

Every time you buy something, look for 'Made in Canada' identification because when you buy products made in Canada, you create work for Canadians. For example...

- if you spend $500 on a Canadian-made sofa, you create about 3 days work for Canadians.
- if Canadians increase their purchases of Canadian-made clothes by only 5%, it would create more than 4,000 new jobs.

The more Canadian products we buy, the more jobs we create.

Your Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism wants you to know that buying Canadian products benefits all of us in Ontario; it boosts our economy and maintains our standard of living.

So when you shop Canadian, you'll be giving Ontario a more prosperous New Year.

The first snow: Winter comes to the Highlands

It's a special time of year...

...that creates a unique beauty,

Standing in a thicket of greying trunks of maple trees, weathered and bleached by the autumn sun, you listen to the first few flakes touch the earth.

The first few melt, submitting to the yet unfrozen ground half covered in dry leaves and dead bush. But as the air becomes thicker with the white particles of frozen moisture and as the east wind begins to cause the branches high above to squeak, you know the snow will eventually stay.

But you give in to the snowfall.

For as the flakes gently swirl and float down around your body, you begin to remember what special beauty a snowfall brings to the earth. It becomes more pronounced as the snowfall increases, a thrill fills your heart, and a cool, white velvet enshrouds the ground around your feet.

Now falling in flakes the size of quarters, the snow gathers upon the forest floor as quickly as the earth melts it. It clings to the bark of trees and catches in the yellowing lichen, once thriving, now drying helplessly on a cold rock exposed to the easterly wind.

And you turn and look at the river, dotted with rocks capped with powder. You notice along the fringes of the cooling water that jewels of ice are starting to form. Their fingers of ice point into the water, sending tiny stars of light bouncing upon the river bed.

A thin, crust of ice has formed on the lake, but the water seeps through the sheet. Too, the snow overruns the water. First, a slush forms on its icy surface, giving way to the force of the first snowfall. The lake is soon white. And so is the earth.

And you notice again all is still. Nothing moves. And the snow still falls.

The first snowfall has arrived.

that changes every day

Merchants

Merchants in Haliburton Village have taken a very important step towards improving their business areas by appointing a steering committee to form a Businessmen's Association in the community.

An association, if properly operated, can increase the economic base for the merchants and ensure that their future livelihood is maintained. The association can work in conjunction with the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce to constantly improve the attractiveness of the village's shopping areas.

The merchants could pool their resources to upgrade the physical features of the business areas by organizing clean-up drives or paint-a-thons to beautify the community's areas of commerce.

Through an association, the merchants could convey their desires to the Municipality and inform elected officials of their interest in improving the business areas of the community.

A good example of co-operation between the two groups would be, the merchants working with the Municipality on eliminating eyesores or nuisances which irritate shoppers.

Merchants last Wednesday expressed a desire to have the hydro poles removed from the main street, better lighting installed, more free parking established by the Municipality, a pedestrian cross walk created halfway down the main street, creating two walkways connecting the downtown area with off-street parking spots and changing the parking meters to allow for a maximum time of two hours parking.

The association must seek to improve the other business areas of the community not only the downtown, because the organization encompasses an area as far north as Wiseway Lumber, east to Stan's Texaco and west to the PineStone Inn.

It could broaden its scope of involvement with the merchants by having the businessmen pool their financial resources for advertising and promotion campaigns. The merchants, through its own organization, could join together to create a joint effort, rather than each individual merchant advertising for a special occasion or special promotion.

An association will provide a unified voice for the merchants to lobby for improvements in the business areas and provide individual merchants with a body of air complaints about the direction and operation of the business community.

The steering committee should choose a strong committee group to administer an association of merchants. The opportunity to improve the business community exists now and the merchants must seek to improve their economic base by supporting an association of merchants in the community.

Hospitals meeting

Residents of Haliburton County must take advantage of the public meeting this Thursday to express their opinions and views of the recommendations of the Red Cross organization concerning the hospitals in Haliburton and Minden villages.

The organization is allowing public input into the operation of both hospitals and residents must be prepared to intelligently comment on the proposed plans of the Red Cross.

Representatives of the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council will host the meeting at the PineStone Inn.

A study, commissioned by the Canadian Red Cross Hospitals Board, recommended a change in the roles of the Haliburton and Minden hospitals. The document envisions expansion of services at Haliburton and a significant change in the role of the hospital at Minden. It would be converted to a clinic facility offering regular ambulatory patient services, along with some special services such as physiotherapy and a consulting nutritionist. The burden of in-patient hospital care would be shifted to the Haliburton hospital. The study recommends closer co-operation between the medical staff in both communities.

Health care must be examined on a county-wide basis and attempting to maintain the status quo will not benefit the residents of the County in the long run. Haliburton County's health care program will have to be examined with a view to improving it on a county-wide basis for the benefit of all residents.

Residents have an opportunity to take advantage of the chance to participate in the health care program of the County by expressing in an intelligent manner their opinions this Thursday.

Everyone is obliged to take an interest in the future of health care in Haliburton County.

As others see it

STEPHEN WILL BE MISSED

The province's legislative chambers will be a duller place in future. The reason is the assembly said good-bye to one of its most able politicians last week - a man who spent all of his adult life in politics, espousing the cause of socialism in the country's wealthiest province, attacking the bureaucracy of government institutions like Workmen's Compensation Board and campaigning for stricter safety measures in the province's industries.

Stephen Lewis, 41, has spent 15 years as a political organizer and politician for a party which has had little chance of gaining the support of the majority of Ontario's voters. Now Mr. Lewis, who has already turned over the reins of the party leadership to Michael Cassidy, is retiring from parliament to start pursuing another life - as a newspaper columnist, a reviewer of children's books and who knows what else.

Whatever one's political affiliation, one can't help but recognize a man who was willing to dedicate perhaps the most exciting years of his life to the political game. It was a game Mr. Lewis played well withstanding the Waffle split from within his own party and the anti-socialist mood from without. Mr. Lewis could be relied on to ask penetrating questions in the legislative assembly, to pursue issues with dogged determination and to provide quotable copy for any members of the media who came his way.

But perhaps Mr. Lewis' wisest decision took place when he turned the leadership of the New Democratic Party over to someone else and got on with the business of pursuing a less public career. Too often veterans of the political game fail to realize they are expendable, and that political parties, like other institutions, need new blood and new ideas.

As Mr. Lewis pointed out, it's harder getting out of politics than getting in. When he first wanted to leave, it wasn't good for the party and then it wasn't good for the federal by-elections.

But last Friday, Mr. Lewis formally said good-bye to Queen's Park, although one can't help suspecting it may be only a temporary absence.

He ended his years in the legislative chambers with a tribute to the other politicians who are staying on the job.

"The politicians who ply their trade in these strange ways are, almost uniformly, an honorable lot. It's so easy to debunk the process and its protagonists; to mock and vilify the players and their games; to see every elected member as a moving target in a shooting gallery.

It's also profoundly unfair. Politicians lead weary, unrelenting lives, and they all approach their jobs differently. But mediocre or gifted, constituency badgers or rhetorical enthusiasts, terrible Tories or shining Socialists, they make the system work, and by and large it works well."

GOOD LUCK GROUP

An industrial development committee is being appointed to search out a stable future for the Bruce Nuclear Power Development impact area.

The committee is being named by Bruce County council.

It will be its job to hunt out ways and means of attracting industry and development to this county.

And if its future is as enthusiastic as its founding moments last Wednesday, the county just may be guaranteed its future.

The committee is the result of a day long industrial seminar held at BNPD when representatives of the impact municipalities gathered to discuss the future.

An industrial committee was the unanimous decision of the delegates as a probable method of attracting development.

It could work for the whole of the area instead of each area working on its own.

One committee should be able to do more productive work than several committees shooting off in different directions.

One committee may be able to pull together to find results.

We give the committee our blessings, we hope it can do the work cut out for it. But it is going to be a hard job.

Other than that - no comment until we see it in action.

Suddenly, I was solely responsible for cooking, washing dishes and laundry. I somehow managed to survive my three months of bachelorhood.

Cooking came fairly easy to me. I ate in restaurants or opened a can of something. Obviously, my culinary skills left a lot to be desired. Washing dishes was quickly overcome. I let them accumulate in the sink until they began overflowing it. That is when I decided it was time to wash them. Laundry was another simple task. I occasionally trekked to the village laundromat, chucked it all into a washer and left it to the machine to do the rest.

Now that will all change with the tasks to be taken over by my wife.

On the side of bad, as far as moving goes, it means leaving the eastern region of the province after having lived in the area for more than seven years. I first journeyed to Gananogue in September 1971 to start my journalism career as a reporter with the town's weekly newspaper. I have lived with my wife and children in Brockville for more than four years. I enjoyed the years spent in that community and will always retain fond memories of eastern Ontario. I acquired many good friends while residing in Brockville.

Haliburton is beginning to feel more and more like home. Although I still possess strong feelings about Brockville, the feelings are beginning to diminish and are being replaced with feelings about Haliburton. The transition from Brockville to Haliburton is now final. The way of life in Haliburton County is something I have enjoyed and will continue to enjoy in the future. I know my wife and two children will learn to appreciate living in this area.

Municipal elections may be over, but before another one rolls around I think that it's just about time that a few changes should take place concerning polling booths. I haven't got the exact wording, but from what I can understand according to the act that no candidate is allowed to stand within 50 feet of the polling booth. In most cases you will find that candidates are much closer than this. Take for instance the Municipal election held recently when so many candidates stood near the door of the polling booth at the Legion Hall at Haliburton that you had to practically trip over them before you could get in to vote. Voters are getting sick of this nonsense and I believe that if the truth were known that it keeps some voters away from the polls on voting day. There is no need for it and if the candidates think that it changes many people's minds on how to vote, they are just kidding themselves. Most people have their minds made up before they go to vote.

The time is fast approaching when local Municipal councils are going to have to spend some of their own money instead of trying to live off government grants. In other words, we will have to start doing something for ourselves. How long can we expect the Provincial and Federal governments to keep pouring money into this County. It's not fair to them and how can we as taxpayers expect them to balance the budget if we are going to continually look for free handouts.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Lou Consky, owner of the Molou Theatre in Haliburton, the Haliburton Brownies are presenting a Theatre Night at the Molou Theatre on Friday, December 8. A wonderful double feature has been lined up, "Wizzard of Oz" and "Lassie Comes Home". The admission price is just $1.50 each for the two shows. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Ross at the Library or from Mrs. Brown at the Deli-Deli. The proceeds from this evening will be used to send the girls who belong to Brownies to camp.

During the past year the question has been thrown around as for the need of a Big Brother's organization in Haliburton County. We think that there is a desperate need for one but it is going to take one of the organizations to lead it off.

A fast growing sport in Canada at the present time is cross-country skiing. It's becoming very popular and more and more people are purchasing skis in an effort to get into the action and see the countryside. By taking up the sport of skiing, it gives the individual the opportunity to get out and breathe in the good fresh air and also it is a good way to keep in shape. The club is always looking for new members and this is your opportunity to join your friends for cross country skiing and it also helps you to keep fit. Get a membership and join the club. For those who enjoy downhill skiing, it's Sir Sam's Inn at Eagle Lake where they have one of the best ski hills in Ontario. Before we do any skiing we will have to have a lot more snow than we have at the present time.

After watching the Grey Cup game played at Exhibition Stadium in Toronto on Sunday and the festivities that were held during the week, one thing came to mind. We wonder if great sports events such as this won't do more for national unity than all of the bickering and arguing of all of the politicians over the Quebec situation. An annual event, now in conjunction with the Grey Cup, are the Grey Cup parties held in various homes throughout Haliburton County. These parties are one way to get the people together for an afternoon of friendship and a real good chit chat before the game, while the game is on and following it. It's a time when people gather together who, during the week, never seem to have time to speak to each other and this gives them the opportunity to talk and relax together. Grey Cup parties are now a tradition and it means more than just sitting there watching the game. Usually a buffet dinner is served and it makes for a real good time. I attended one of these Grey Cup parties a year ago where everyone came with their families and it was a great family affair. Maybe people should come together more often on occasions such as this.

The local merchants in Haliburton County now have their stores decorated for the holiday season and some of the window displays look just beautiful. This all means that Christmas is not far off. Inside, the store's decorations also abound.

Campbell's Garden Centre and Flower Shop in Minden has taken on a new look. The owners have gone to a great deal of trouble and expense in completely re-decorating the interior of their flower shop. They have really changed things around so the next time you are in Minden, drop in and see the new look.

We come to the song, "Are You Lonesome Tonight?". Just take a minute to think about all the lonesome people in your community who would just love you to call around and see them. Sure we can say we are too busy, but really this is just an excuse. We have to take time. It's a case of people helping people. Let's make it a point to put a little joy into someone's life this week.

Every year around this time in advertisements and window displays we see the word Christmas taken down to a short form Xmas. This is something that is wrong and when we take Christ out of Christmas what have we got left. We are getting away from the real meaning of Christmas and as we all know it is becoming too commercialized.

Two well known Haliburton citizens passed away over the weekend. Suddenly at the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton on Friday, November 24, 1978, Laura May Baker in her 85th year and on Saturday, November 25, 1978, Kathleen May Brannigan passed away at the Women's College Hospital in Toronto. She was in her 58th year. The sympathy of the community goes out to these two families in their time of bereavement.

HALIBURTON FORMS ASSOCIATION

Last Wednesday members of the business community of the village of Haliburton met at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School to discuss, among other things, the formation of a businessmens association. The association was formed with a steering committee made up of Mike Easton, Vince Connaughan, Doug Moore, Grant Rae and Paulette Blake. The suggested area that the association encompass stretches north as far as Wiseway Lumber, east to Stan's Texaco, and west to the PineStone Inn.

While one workshop group was meeting to discuss the formation of this association, two other workshop groups were busy discussing possible projects. The municipal relations group discussed a number of things that the association will be approaching the municipality on, and the third group the possibility of a business improvement program. The business improvement area idea was shelved for the time being with the thought in mind that a small project be attempted once the success of the association has been assessed.

The Chamber encouraged the formation of this association in hopes to develop good working relations with it as well as the existing association in Minden that would parallel the already excellent relations between the Chamber and the Lake Kawagami Tourist Association. These associations can concentrate on problems, issues, and promotion of local and specific nature, while the Chamber concentrates on the overall concerns of the Highlands.

C.O.T.A. APPOINTS NEW MANAGER

At a meeting of the Central Ontario Travel Association in Peterborough last Wednesday new manager Aldo Campanolo was officially hired to take over duties from the previous manager George Coling. Aldo has been the very successful manager of another travel association for the past three years. He headed the James Bay Frontier Organization with their offices in Timmins. One of the things that impressed the directors was the incredible stock of statistics that Aldo has compiled to show where advertising dollars had been of benefit and had not, and where their travelling public were arriving from. This sort of information has been sadly lacking in our travel area and we are certainly looking forward to getting systems set up that will provide this sort of information.

As most members would be well aware our Chamber has had some difficulty in working with C.O.T.A. in the past, but we are very optimistic about the future relations working with this new manager.

SEMINAR CANCELLED

Sir Sandford Fleming College in response to, among other people, the Chamber, was prepared to run a three-day seminar next weekend on advertising for the accommodations industry. We sincerely felt that this was an area in which quite a number of our membership could use some assistance. Unfortunately due to an extremely poor response to this particular seminar, it has had to be cancelled for the time being. Hopefully another attempt will be made at a later date to put on this very worthwhile session.

LET'S HEAR IF FOR THE VOLUNTEERS!

In a community such as ours, volunteer help is one of our most important assets. So much of what we have, and what we are about to obtain is the result of dedicated volunteer effort, and could be obtained in no other way. The volunteers that help to make all this possible are a precious minority.

Did you ever wonder why some who have volunteered unselfishly of their time will suddenly pull back and avoid getting involved in anything? There would appear to be two reasons. Often once someone has shown an inclination to be willing to help, they will be overloaded with tasks, to the point that they can no longer cope with it. Sometimes the only apparent way out of all these added responsibilities is to avoid being involved altogether. The other reason very often is because of the undue criticisms and negative remarks they often suffer for no apparent reason.

The only payment that volunteers generally receive for their efforts is the satisfaction in knowing they have done something worthwhile and the possible recognition they may get for having done it. When instead of recognition they get put down, the satisfaction is lost and there remains little reason to continue in their efforts. If this process is repeated often enough, we, of course, will run out of volunteers.

The uncalled for attack in one newspaper editorial last week was an excellent example of this. Two directors are criticized for having the nerve to run in municipal elections when they are already donating their services to the Chamber. To add to this President John Hogg was caught giving valuable time away from his business conferring with the Chamber manager at the polling booth on Chamber business.

Really now!

Pic of the Past

Two Haliburton men are on the scene in this week's Pic of the Past. On the left is Stewart Roberts and on the right is Bert Howe shown in front of the cook house at a lumbering camp at Richies Lake in the winter of 1920-21. Bert Howe was the cook. Stewart is now a resident at Extensicare, Haliburton and Bert is retired from Bell Canada but still very active. Our thanks to Bert Howe of Haliburton for submitting this photo.

If anyone can tell me why disasters run in threes, I'll be happy to listen. And don't think I'm superstitious, because I'm not.

I know from experience. During the war, it used to happen on my squadron. We'd lose three pilots in two days, and then none for ten. And then three more.

During the peace, it was the same. One night my wife would give a black eye for some inexplicable reason. The next day, one of the kids would come down with appendicitis or something. And the third day I'd get a parking ticket for parking in the same place I'd parked for weeks, free.

Last Saturday was no exception. We were delivering our older car to my daughter, in the city. She had finally obtained a position - not a job, mind you - as a secondary school teacher. For one month. But she has to commute for an hour and a half, at each end of the day. That's a pretty hefty commute, especially when you have to cope with two of the wildest boys in Christendom, at each end.

So, in her inimitably modest and self-effacing way, she phoned her old man (collect) and suggested he loan her the old Dodge, market value $150, real value about $500, sentimental value about $12,000. This would cut her commuting time to forty minutes.

So, in his inimitably stupid way, her old man agreed (why doesn't she move to Vancouver?) And in his inimitably idiotic way, her old man started worrying about her safety. The old Dodge - it's only eleven - requires a combination of jockey and a tractor driver to handle it.

So the old man, to cut a long story to ribbons, spent $125 in a check-up and repairs so that his baby wouldn't cream herself on highway and leave said old man with two grandchildren to raise.

Just hang in there. The saga has barely begun. All you've got so far is back-ground. It gets worse and worse.

Saturday morning, old lady and self having breakfast before setting off for city to deliver old Dodge. Self breaks tooth while eating toast and jam, leaving him looking like a stand-in for Dracula.

However, dentists being the robber barons of the new era, doesn't even phone one. Cheerily sets off for city, tongue flicking like a snake at edges of ruptured tooth. Old Dodge runs down highway like a rocket.

Enter city. Enter disaster two. On one of the busiest thoroughfares, suddenly no brakes. No brakes. Checked out the day before.

Red light comes on. Self, with nerves of steel of old fighter pilot juggles stick judiciously between forward and reverse and comes to rest, unharmed but shaking like proverbial leaf, against bumper of car on sidewalk.

There's only one thing more hair-raising than a car without brakes, and that's an aircraft without brakes. I've been through the caper too. But in a car, you can always throw the thing into reverse. You might rip out the transmission, but you'll stop. In an aircraft, there ain't no reverse, and you hit the ground at about 100 miles per hour, with several tons of metal. The only brake is the end of the runway, which can be a bit hairy.

Anyway, got the old Dodge stopped. A delightful young Englishman, who lives on the quiet sidestreets on which I came to rest, saw my predicament, and gave great aid and comfort. He checked out my master cylinder, which for all I knew, was in the trunk, and there was fluid in it. He suggested I try to make a garage, two blocks away, by driving in low gear, with him driving right ahead to act as a buffer. Tried this and panicked when horns started hooting viciously.

He took me to the garage, insisted on waiting until I was served, commiserated with me over the $14 towing charge, and took me back to the derelict, where I expected to find my wife literally shaking with rage. At me.

Something's happening to her. Ten years ago, in such an incident, she'd have ripped into me with assorted charges of incompetence, mopey and gawk.

But she's mellowed. She merely asked me how things went. When the tow-truck arrived and hoisted our front end high, we both elected to remain in the car. As we sailed majestically off to the garage, I ventured tentatively, "Fun, isn't it?", she grinned, and we were closer than we've been for a while.

We suffered a learned exposition from the mechanic, whose favorite word, ironically, was "irony". Not the sort of word mechanics usually toss about. He ex-

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

A report on the George Kerr controversy prepared by Herbert Langdon, Deputy Director of Crown Attorneys says the former Solicitor-General's main motive in calling an Assistant Crown Attorney was to influence sentencing of a constituent. The report says Kerr called Halton Assistant Crown Attorney David Price to persuade him not to press for a jail term. The call was made minutes before the constituent in question was to appear in court.

Langdon's report, released to the Justice Committee, contradicts the version of the telephone call which Kerr has given since the matter first came to light and which he repeated in an interview this past week. This report was seen by Premier William Davis before he made his initial decision on September 6 to allow Kerr to remain in the Cabinet, according to the Premier's press secretary. Three days later Premier Davis accepted Kerr's resignation - after it was revealed that the report included memos saying that Kerr questioned whether a jail term was the proper disposition of the case, and after John Munro resigned as federal Labour Minister after admitting he called a judge about a constituent.

While the report questions the wisdom of a solicitor-general advising someone on charges laid by the police, it states: "It does not seem that Mr. Kerr's telephone call constituted an attempt to obstruct, pervert or defeat the course of justice within the meaning of Section 127 of the Criminal Code."

Two weeks ago, in a major confrontation in the Legislature, the Liberal and New Democratic Parties threatened to vote together to reduce the Ministry of Housing's spending by $18,000 - an amount equal to the extra salary paid to the Minister. The Government House Leader warned that such a move could be considered a vote of nonconfidence. Subsequently, the government backed off just far enough on the controversial Cantrakon development on the Niagara Escarpment to avoid possible defeat on this matter. The Housing Minister said he will arrange meetings between Cantrakon and local ratepayers opposed to the development. Meanwhile, the project's architect has indicated that the company would be willing to settle on another location if it is within an hour's drive of the airport and offers an equally spectacular view.

Subsequently, landowners on the Niagara Escarpment and in other areas of Ontario have offered to sell their land for the controversial Cantrakon Ltd. project. The Housing Minister has indicated that he has received more than a dozen offers from landowners wishing to sell their property for the $16-million hotel and conference centre. He stated that he told the people concerned to put their offers in writing.

The counsellor at the Huronia Regional Centre in Orillia who was reinstated after being fired for and later convicted of kicking a mentally retarded woman in the face has been transferred from the Ministry of Community and Social Services to a position in another ministry. The new job ensures that he will no longer have direct contact with residents in any provincially-run institution. In a toughly negotiated settlement between the Ontario Public Service Employees Union and the Provincial Government, the counsellor was transferred to the Ministry of Government Services where he will work as a supply clerk at the same pay he was receiving as a residential counsellor at Huronia.

Report from Parliament

by William C. Scott MP

Auditor General J.J. Macdonnell tabled his annual report on government expenditures last Thursday, marking the 100th such report since the auditor general's office was established in 1878. In addition to noting specific instances of government waste and extravagance in his reports, Macdonnell has featured a major government failing in each of the reports he has tabled in his five years in the office.

This year's report scores the government heavily for what Macdonnell calls a widespread disregard for economy and efficiency in operations in the various government departments, and lack of regard for established and well-founded methods of evaluating efficiency.

Macdonnell said that Canada's public service operates at about 65 per cent efficiency, compared to the internationally accepted level of 80 per cent. He said that at least $30-million per year could be saved if the government could make up the difference in efficiency of 15 per cent. This saving could be achieved in a single department with 10,000 employees, or about $340-million throughout the service.

For example, practically every government building constructed in the past five years has cost approximately double the original cost estimates. And, little or no control is exercised over contracting for goods and services. Further, the report states that there are very few examples of government effort to evaluate effectiveness of federally-funded programs even though some have cost hundreds of millions of dollars of tax moneys.

Macdonnell voiced his displeasure at the failure of the government to heed his advice to place more information on departmental spending at the disposal of Parliament. He said that this has not been acted upon in spite of the fact that he has made the recommendation for the past three years.

He gives some examples of what he would like to see examined more closely by Parliament, stating that Parliament doesn't get to know about them until after it is too late.

In 1977, he said, the government entered into a 71-year lease on 55 acres of land in Vancouver, intending to build the Pacific Environment Centre on the site. Construction has not yet started, and, in fact, the plans have been put on the back burner.

Macdonnell cites numerous cases where departments overpaid contractors and suppliers, where some were paid twice for the same contract, or where goods and services were paid for without anyone knowing whether the work was done or the goods were received.

TiCats win in Haliburton, Huskies settle for a split

It was Tim Bain's night last Friday. The Haliburton Huskies centre showed that despite a relatively slow start this season, he has the spice that can give the Huskies flavour.

Bain earned himself a hat trick in Friday's game in Bobcaygeon, and helped his teammates down the TiCats in a squeaker that wound up 8 to 7 for Haliburton.

Though the Huskies stacked up the penalties throughout the match, it was a see-saw battle in every period. The visitors struck first in the period at the 14:05 mark when leftwinger Joe Roberts scored from Chris Hodgson and centre Randy Barras. But it didn't take the TiCats long to recover when they scored 42 seconds later.

Scoring dropped off in the period, and the match became a very close checking one. The Huskies came up with six penalties in the period to Bobcaygeon's five.

The TiCats shifted gears and scored two goals within 15 seconds of each other. As the lead increased, so did the hometown's confidence, as they scored again at the 5:09 mark.

Ironically, though Haliburton received more penalties in the game than the TiCats, it was the Huskies that did all the scoring on power plays.

With the man advantage, Haliburton capitalized on three power plays in a row. The first came at 9:43 when centre Dave Levely and defenceman Mike Iles combined to assist defenceman Barry Shaw score his second of the year. The second power play goal came at the 11:33 mark when rightwinger Ed Roberts cut into Bobcaygeon's lead. The goal was assisted by centre Andy Salvatori and Shaw.

It took 24 more seconds and another penalty by Bobcaygeon to cause Salvatori to score from Shaw. But at 13:39, it was Bobcaygeon's turn to come back, resulting in a 5 to 4 hockey game at that point.

At 15:00, Bain came up with his first of the game. Ed Roberts helped out on the goal.

Hodgson and Barras combined again a minute later to give Joe Roberts his second of the game.

Second period penalties for the Huskies were a total of seven and three to the TiCats. Haliburton sailed into the third hanging on to a slender 6 to 5 lead. Bain shone again when he picked up another goal at 5:22. The assist was by Levely and rightwinger Steve Davies.

Undaunted, Bobcaygeon came across with a goal at the 5:53 mark and appeared to be right back in the game. Bain gained his hat trick at 13:07, with Salvatori backing him up on the play.

But Bobcaygeon was to have the final say. At 15:07, still with less than five minutes to play, they scored again. But the Huskies held the hometown squad until the end, winning 8 to 7.

That last goal seemed to set the scene for Sunday's game when Bobcaygeon beat Haliburton to even the two-game series at a win apiece.

Thanks to a very hot Bobcaygeon goaltender, Randy Paul, the Haliburton squad fell to the visiting TiCats 5 to 1.

"We just couldn't get anything by him," said manager Don Lloyd of Paul. "He was a hot one."

But penalties added to the problem, and in the first period, the TiCats scored two power-play goals; one at 2:04 and again at 8:32. The goals resulted when defenceman Tim Oram got the gate for elbowing, and when centre Andy Salvatori received the same infraction at 7:14.

Huskies' Davies and Bobcaygeon defenceman Paul Chidley got the gate in the period for fighting. Both received high sticking penalties at 19:06, along with the five-minute majors. The

Squash session nearing close

With the fall session coming to a close, competition has been keen in the Squash Club House League and few points are separating the top teams. Finals will be held Monday, December 4. Standings as of November 23 are: Dawson's No Faults — 24 points, Rydman's Robots — 23 points, Brydon's Bullets — 22 points, Court Jesters — 22 points, John's Jocks — 21 points, Carter's Sweathogs — 21 points, Dave's Drop Shots — 21 points and Creelman's Cats — 6 points.

The Huskies play again this Friday at the Dysart arena when they take on the Lakefield Jets. Game time at the arena is 8:30 p.m. The Huskies will travel to Bewdley on December 6 to match the local team. Game time there will be at 8 p.m.

Huskies incurred six penalties throughout the period to Bobcaygeon's three.

With the second period, the chances for the Huskies increased. But the Bobcaygeon goaltender held fast and came up with several spectacular saves, sending some Huskies back to the bench shaking their heads.

At 13:40, Bobcaygeon capitalized on Haliburton goaltender Craig Woods' "not-so-hot" night and scored. On a power play originating from a roughing penalty by Oram, they scored again at the 15:31 mark. Penalties for the Huskies amounted to four, contrasted with Bobcaygeon's one.

With the third period, even greater chances arose for Haliburton, as the visitors came up short-handed six times throughout the period due to penalties.

The efforts were to no avail, as the Bobcaygeon netminder held his ground. The TiCats scored again on a power play after Barras got the gate for charging.

Finally, on a power-play goal that was a long time coming, Oram scored lone goal for Haliburton from Shaw and defenceman Kevin O'Hara. The goal came with less than three minutes left in the game.

The final score in the match was Bobcaygeon 5, Haliburton 1.

It took a lot for the Haliburton Huskies to get the puck past Bobcaygeon netminder, Randy Paul in Sunday's game.

Play improving.

Bantams lose game

Haliburton Ontario Minor Hockey Association (OMHA) Bantams showed a marked improvement in play but suffered a 6 to 4 loss to Omemee last Tuesday night.

Haliburton opened the scoring at 2:31 of the first period on a well-placed sharp angle shot by Paul Vukic neatly set up by Dave Nicholls. The team played extremely well with fine checking and good passing, except for two short lapses. Lapse one lasted less than one minute, but in that period of time Omemee scored 3 goals, 2 by Roberze and one by Robertson. Lapse two lasted one minute and resulted in two more Omemee goals, both by Peters. Before the end of the period, Vukic again scored with Nicholls to make the score 5 to 2 for Omemee.

In the second period, Haliburton dominated the play again, but only out-scored the opposition 2 to 1. The first goal was scored by Fred Roberts assisted by Duff Mitchell and Steve MacNaull. The second goal of the period completed the hat trick for Vukic, again assisted by Nicholls and Scott Rae. But between these goals, Ome-mee scored with a goal by Ruth.

The third period was a saw-off and the final score ended 6 to 4.

Special mention must be made of the fine defensive foursome of Glen Evans, Norm Barry, Steve Smith, and Scot Mitchell. Solid is the only way to describe their performance of the night.

There will be a bantam hockey tournament held at the Minden arena this Saturday.

The annual tournament is expected to draw teams from many areas. The winner of the tourney will receive the Watson Yake trophy.

The consolation winners all receive the Gord Monk trophy and the tournament will run the entire day.

Along the Trails by Roy Bates

Planning a Snowmobile Safari?

I received a letter the other day from Reg Beckstead, an adventurous member of the Seaway Valley Snowmobile Association, Cornwall, outlining some of his plans for enjoyment of the coming snowmobiling season.

On February 3, he and one of his riding companions from previous adventures, will be heading out of Cornwall with memories of Haliburton trails gazing them on to their destination. Yes, Haliburton is their tentative destination, but if all goes well along the way, they will extend the trip to include a visit to Port Sydney.

A loop route is the plan as I understand it, coming up along a series of trails that roughly parallel Highway 7 to the Madoc area and then northerly to Coe Hill, Paudash, and on to Haliburton and Port Sydney. The return will be by way of Whitney, Barry's Bay and Eganville.

The complete journey will clock close to 1,000 miles. I look forward to meeting again these old friends of the trail, and to riding with them over the new Baysville trail to Port Sydney. The latest report from the HCSA trail cutters is that clearing of that route is almost completed. By February, it should be in first class condition with our club and the Hill and Gully Riders sharing grooming responsibility.

Not every snowmobiler is prepared, mentally or physically to attempt a safari of such proportions. However, there is no longer any reason for even the most timid to stay in his own back yard. Good groomed trails exist in almost every part of the Province now, and these are rapidly being connected up to become a Province-wide trail grid. There are a few locations yet where development is lagging but generally speaking, if there is somewhere you'd like to go by snowmobile, there is a way to get there. Make a few phone calls or write a few letters to make contact with the snowmobile clubs along the way and you'll be amazed at how quickly your safari can be plotted.

Good Promotion and all for free

If you are a member of one of the 315 clubs of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs you should be receiving the magazine Snowmobile Sports. This is the publication which carries the official news of the Federation to more than 11,000 snowmobiling families by direct mail as well as to many others, who pick up the news stand copies.

The October issue is 96 pages, four of which are OFSC news, so it can be seen that the magazine carries a great deal of other material of interest to snowmobilers. In this issue, there can be found one three-page article on Haliburton, one snowmobile safari which took place in Haliburton, one short promotional feature item, one item on the progress of the HCSA, and one which mentions Haliburton in the coming events plans of an outside club, the Sno-Voyagers of Barrie.

This kind of promotion can't hurt us - unless we should suddenly decide that we don't want more snowmobilers. Don't laugh. That could happen, if the wear and tear of increasing traffic on our snowmobile trails becomes too much for the local association to handle with their limited resources. There is one way to ensure that it won't happen, and that is by giving of your support. This can be in the form of membership in the organization, advertising on maps and brochures produced by the organization, direct monetary contribution to the cause, or by giving freely of your time and talents to carry out the organization's worthy projects.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association has been working diligently for seven years for you, the snowmobiler and the businessman. A pat on the back is always welcomed, but you can really show your appreciation by getting involved. If you simply sit back and wait for the benefits of free promotion and other peoples labour to come your way on a platter, you shouldn't be surprised when those benefits begin to pass you by. Think about it, then give the HCSA a call.

Gems of Truth

Jesus Among Other Races
"And from thence He arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon." Mark 7:24 (a)

In the previous verses of the seventh chapter, Mark gives the account of the confrontation the Lord Jesus had with the Scribes and Pharisees about the tradition of the elders. They accused Jesus of breaking these and He in turn told them of the more serious act of breaking the commandments of God. His denunciation of these religious leaders was sharp indeed, and He foresaw their intent to silence Him and do away with Him forever. In a few words, the "Cross" would be their goal.

It was at this point of time that Jesus turned His footsteps into Gentile territory, which He had strictly forbidden His helpers to enter as He had sent them out on service missions. Matthew 10:5-6. The inhabitants of Tyre and Sidon were pagan Gentiles, and Jesus now entered a house in their borders. This fact is more than just a bit of history. It foreshadowed what would take place after Calvary had accomplished redemption for the whole world.

While in this Gentile house, an extremely interesting occasion takes place. The fame and ministering power of Jesus to the needy had reached the ears of a certain woman who was a Greek. She is identified as a "woman of Canaan" by Matthew (15:22). When this Syrophenician woman first approached Jesus about her sick daughter, she addressed Him as "Son of David" and therewith did not receive a reply from Him. The "Canaanites" were the deadly enemy of Israel in all their wilderness journeys and even in the land. She had no claim whatsoever on the Lord's power and no promise anywhere of help, yet she came on behalf of her sick daughter. She exhibited "faith" that the Lord Jesus was her only help. Such faith had been utterly lacking in Israel as a nation and its leaders were adamant about it. They would not need this "impostor" as they called Jesus, and turned a deaf ear to His every plea to return to God.

The answer that Jesus finally gave to the woman when she left off her identity with "the son of David" and called Him "Lord", was a searching test of the woman's faith. That answer was simply this, "Let the children first be filled, for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to the dogs." Mark 7:3. The word "dogs" immediately caught the seeker's attention and she was not distracted from her search for help by this word, for she fully understood what it was all about. In the eyes of the Jewish nation, Gentiles were dogs, and had no place in the place of blessing they prized themselves in as a nation. Gentiles were outcasts, and Paul in his letter to the Ephesian Church described them as being "dead in trespasses and sins." Eph. 2:1-3.

The Syrophenician woman gave assent to what Jesus told her, yet was willing to be satisfied with the "children's" crumbs. Mark 7:28. By faith this woman saw in Jesus what the doctors of the Law could not see: real faith penetrates deep spiritual mysteries and receives otherwise unknown Divine grace and blessings. Her faith stands in sharp contrast to the unbelief Jesus had met in Israel. His own people had already morally rejected Him and He was moving on toward the Cross, where He would be the victim of their official rejection. How refreshing it must have been to Jesus to find faith in a stranger, and that an enemy (Canaanite) and He no longer hesitated to meet her request for help. Mark 7:29.

In the plan of God, He fills up the measure of man's opportunity before He moves on to another program — Israel's opportunity had to be filled full before Jesus turned and directed His steps to include Gentiles in His program. It is thus that we have the words of Jesus, "Let the children (Israel) first be filled."

ed." In this present "age of grace," (Christianity) the Gentiles are having "their fill" of opportunity, but the same result is going to be seen in the end of this "age", when a Gentile world, like the Jewish world, rejects the matchless grace of God. That day is upon us even now, and the days of opportunity are fast receding and the out-called Church soon removed from the scene of apostasy. II Timothy 3:1-8. II Thes. 2:1-12.

The incident recorded by Mark in the next event in his Gospel is a marvelous picture of Israel in days to come.

Wayne Wood, Dysart et al clerk, received a $1,000 cheque from Dick McLean, president of the Kinsmen Club last Friday. The Kinsmen donation will pay for a 10-ton set of jacks and pullers and forceable entry tools which will be placed in the townships emergency reserve bus.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

Were you ready for our first snowfall on Thursday, November 23? So many things to try and remember where you let them, when you put them away last spring such as snowboots, boot tray for those wet overshoes, snow and ice scraper for the car and the shovel to remove snow from the house entrance. Oh, how soon we forget, but wasn't it a lovely fall? I talked to a friend on Monday who lives in the Nobleton area and she mentioned that she had picked four roses from her bushes on the weekend (Sunday, November 19) and she also found a perfectly formed strawberry nearly ripe in her garden.

Pam Brohm was hostess at a bridal shower on Saturday, November 18, for her sister, Susan, who will marry Michael McAllister, son of Gordon and Jackie McAllister of Coboconk, in Norland United Church on December 2. Susan is the daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Chynoweth and the late Frank Chynoweth. Best wishes are extended to the happy couple.

If you were wondering why the town water was off for a short time on Wednesday, November 22, a coupling on a water pipe under highway 503 west in Norland was leaking. It took considerable time and trouble to find where the water was escaping and then a backhoe was required to dig up the road down to the pipe to reach the problem. Under the circumstances, I guess that we were fortunate that the water was not off longer.

While on the subject of town water, it might be of interest to some to know why there is no water although the hydro is off in only one part of Norland. The pump house is supplied by three phases of hydro and if any one of these phases is without power, the pump must be turned off to prevent damage to switches and/or the pump. Our thanks to Vern LeCraw and John Maunder who because they live in different hydro phase areas, take their turn running to the pump house, if the hydro is off.

Firemen's Hockey Pool winner for Saturday, November 18, was Jim Brown.

Norland Bowling Team standings for Game 2, Series 2, as of November 22. Teams of L. McLean, 10 points, K. Watson, L. Jewell and B. Maunder - nine points, N. Chynoweth - eight points, T. Watson - five points, B. Davey - four points, D. Boyce - two points. Ladies high single and average - Rotha

Bryant 215, 186, high triple, Nelly Chynoweth 581. Men's high single - Jesse Buxey 225 and high triple and average - Harry Smith 583, 195.

Wilberforce News

It is 26 years since the Monmouth Skating Club was organized by Mrs. Beatrice Herlihey. Enrolment consisted of 25 skaters and the season's fee was $5. The first teacher was from Bancroft and she must have found winter driving a hazardous experience considering the road conditions of that time.

Today with 55 members, the fee is still a low $12. To keep this modest figure, several fund-raising projects are arranged throughout the year. In order that these are successful, the Club is dependent on the full support of parents and friends in such ventures as the Fall bazaar and the Figure Skater's booth during the July Country Good Times.

Members of the present executive are President Joanne Coumbs, Secretary-Treasurer Jill Lee and committee members Adele Barnes and Gerry Waugh. This year they have obtained an excellent teacher from Bancroft, Margaret Powell.

The figure skaters span the age group of three to 20 years. At one time, the club had several senior women taking instruction. A good idea for mothers waiting around for their little ones. Lessons are on Saturday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and Wednesday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

There has been a book exchange at the library and new reading material is now available for your browsing. A display of articles on loan from the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts is worth viewing. You will find pottery, wall hangings and other samples of handicrafts.

The ever popular annual wildlife dinner is coming up on Saturday, December 2. The success of this event last year has prompted members of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 624, to once again prepare a feast to be remembered. For those who do not care for a taste of the wild, alternatives will be offered. This is a great time week, it will remind snowmobilers that one of these days they will be on the trails ready to enjoy our winter weather. If as a snowmobiler you would like to join Haliburton Snowmobilers, contact

Congratulations to all those

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Haas and Gloria and Joann of Lindsay were recent visitors.

Maple Lake News

by Elaine Barjarow

We were all very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Clarence Horsley, who died suddenly last Tuesday. Our sincere condolences to Mrs.

Margaret Horsley. Mr. Stan Upton and daughter, Marilyn, spent a couple of hours on Friday with his mother.

Stanhope Township held their annual Christmas party (dinner and dance) at the Fire Hall on Saturday, November 25, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Larry and Kathy Castle and girls spent the weekend with her parents, Frank and Elaine Barjarow.

Phyllis and Art Sisson spent several days with her mother, Mrs. Gerty Upton.

Congratulations to Bruce and Viola Cook, who are celebrating their 23rd wedding anniversary.

So nice to see our little feathered friends back crowding the bird feeders at the start of the winter season.

Well, it looks as though winter is upon us again judging by the number of snowplows and sanders on the roads the last few days.

If anyone has news of the Maple Lake area, please call 754-2187.

Carnarvon News

by Yvonne Penney

Jim and Pearl Foster and Eleanor and Bob Patton arrived home from Jamaica on Saturday looking tanned and beautiful. Apparently, a good time was had by all.

Dorothy and Dick Kinsman stopped off in Toronto for the Grey Cup game.

Stanhope Township employees and their spouses enjoyed a roast beef dinner, Saturday night at the fire hall. This was their Christmas dinner and was catered by by Carnarvon U.C.W. ladies. Three very attractive young high school girls helped serve dinner and a camera enthusiast in attendance snapped quite a few pictures of them. Rumour has it that one person ate 3 pieces of pie.

Violet Wallace is in Peterborough Civic Hospital undergoing tests. Our best wishes and our prayers are with Vi and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Our prayers are also with the family of the late Clarence Horsley. Life must go on for the rest of us and we are probably better people for having known him.

I didn't think there was anyone around who hadn't eaten venison but I found a young lady last week who hadn't. Mr. and Mrs. Don Holden along with Paul and Mary-Jane and Krista came to enjoy some venison with us on Sunday. Don says he really enjoys our northern hospitality as he hails from Toronto.

There was a good turnout of parents at H.H.S.S. last week for "Meet The Teachers' night. It is very encouraging to meet your son or daughter's teachers face to face. They are probably the second greatest influence in a teenager's life.

Resident selection almost done

The resident selection process for entrance to the 34-unit senior citizens housing project in Haliburton Village is nearing completion, according to an Ontario Housing Corporation (OHC) official.

Linda Langston of OHC's Central Ontario Branch in Peterborough, said 26 applicants have been selected for accommodation. Only seven units remain unfilled, she explained. One of the units is reserved for the superintendent.

OHC began interviewing applicants last September from a field of fifty applications. Every senior citizen in Dysart et al Municipality is eligible for applications to the housing.

Coboconk News

by Shiela Lake

Thursday left no doubts that the past beautiful weather of November was only an added bonus and we must not be fooled - winter is still about to come. On Thursday, I journeyed to Sutton, Queensville, Holland Landing and Mt. Albert area. It was very hazardous driving and I saw one car near Port Bolster that had ended up in the ditch. I enjoyed a visit with sisters, Mrs. Rod Harrison and Mrs. Bill Goode at Queensville.

My husband's employer passed away very suddenly on Tuesday, Mr. Clarence Horsley of West Guilford who had worked all the week, took ill on Sunday, entered hospital and died suddenly from a coronary attack on Tuesday. Mr. Horsley was known far and wide as a lumberman and many from Fenelon Falls, Norland, Kinmount, Coboconk and the surrounding areas have either worked for, or had business dealings with Clarence. Our sympathy to the family. He will be greatly missed. Many from here attended the funeral at Maple Lake United Church, Maple Lake on Friday.

So sorry also to learn of the passing of Art Winterburn at Bobcaygeon on Thursday. Our sympathy to his family. The new lumber yard buildings are a "thing of beauty" as you approach Coboconk from the north end of town. The rich brown with bright orange trim is simply beautiful. The one building I'm sure is as some arenas. The owners can be justly proud of their efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peyton of Manchester were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Fralick and Clara on Saturday on the occasion of Ken's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adriane Lee of Shadow Lee Bay Trailer Park are enjoying a vacation in Florida and Marion and Roy Newman are in charge of the business until they return.

pounded, "The irony of it is that if I put a new master cylinder, at about $120, you may still have no brakes, since there may be air in the lines, and I can't bleed the lines because the footpaw might break if I applied the thingummy."

He went on, "If you still have no brakes, you have a problem." I almost expected him to say, "N'est-ce pas?" the question was so ridiculous. "Of course, you could put in new thanabobs, but they are $12 each, plus labor."

Finally, after an hour and a half, we abandoned the thing in the garage and set off on foot with our presents for the kids: a clown suit for Poke, which my wife had labored on with love for two weeks, a bag of apples that weighed twenty pounds, a pair of shoes for Kim, and various miscellaneous articles, all heavy.

We made the bus home by the skin of our teeth, after a hectic half hour with the young 'uns. And disaster struck.

Overcome by the day's vicissitudes, I fell asleep in front of the TV, cigarette in hand, and burned a hole in the couch, a blanket and my stomach. Not to mention my wife's new-found mellowness.

C'est la vie. They come in three.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

It sure looks as if winter is on its way in to stay. I went to Peterborough last Thursday. With the ground bare, I just wore shoes and didn't even think to take winter boots. Before we got home I was walking in slush and snow right up to my ankles. Since then I have been fighting off sinus and a chest cold. Everytime I cough it feels as if a 10-ton trailer has gone over my chest. So if my column isn't too long this week, forgive me. Next week I'll have it licked, I hope!

Do plan to attend the A.C.W. tea at St. Paul's Parish Hall this Saturday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. They always have such a beautiful display of articles for sale. Congratulations to those people in this area who have already won prizes in the CHEX Pepsi Draw.

There are only several birthdays at Hyland Crest this month. Occurring next month are Esther Rowbotham, December 20 and Maude Boice, December 30.

The Walter Browns had Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tracy and Shane of Bethany as their guests over the weekend.

Chris Pritchard was home on leave recently, he has been stationed with the Armed Forces in Germany for some time. It is always a pleasure to his parents when he can get leave.

The lights and decorations are starting to be put up along the main street, thus bringing home the fact that Christmas is less than one month away. When talking to one of my younger granddaughters, the other day, I asked her if she was being a good girl for Santa. Much to my surprise, I was told "that was up to her mother" and for a moment I thought someone had been telling tales, but asked her what was up to her mother. She looked at me scornfully and said "whether I'm a good girl", so grandma was set in her place very neatly, wasn't she?

Winners at last week's Mini Card Party were — bridge, Mary Maidens; cribbage, Joyce Hewitt, Jeanne Sears; euchre, Anne Rockory and Alice Todd.

Winner of the beautiful afghan, raffled at the Hyland Crest Bazaar last week, was Mrs. C. L. Finch.

One of the machines broke down at the arena a week ago and the men worked hard to have it fixed by last weekend, but it broke again. I believe it is now in working order, so some games will be rescheduled for later.

I will do better next week, but for now adios and take care now.

The Leahy Family played at the dance at the West Guilford Community Centre on November 18. The door prize was won by Tom Adams.

The Monday night bingos at the Centre, has a jackpot of more than $90. Wouldn't that make a lovely Christmas gift?

This Friday is the night the ladies of St. Andrew's Church are having their concert at the Centre. It promises to be a very enjoyable evening, with the pipers and the dancers.

Mrs. Anne Mawbey is home from a one-week holiday in Belleville.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Margaret Horsley and family in the passing of Clarence. He was one of the nicest people, and will be sadly missed by the community.

Well, last Thursday really was a day. The snow came so fast, it was like a February storm.

Mavis and Ron Elstone of Ottawa, spent some time visiting with Keith and Violet last week.

Tom Barry and Tim Dobish, visited with Jack and Kay Barry, last Thursday, and had to stay the night because of the snow storm.

Murray Davis of Vine-mout and Jack Fisher of Smithville, spent a few days at the Davis's summer residence on the Irish Line, recently.

On Friday, of last week, the old Andy Sisson homestead came tumbling down, to show off the beautiful new home, in back. For a number of years, the West Guilford Post Office was in the house, and it was almost a landmark to West Guilford.

Garry Barry of Toronto, visited with his parents, Jack and Kay Barry, on the weekend. Also visiting with them was Mrs. Bessie Simms, Kay's mother.

Nora Andrews, of Toronto, spent the weekend with the Mulholland family.

Shirley Adams is visiting in Lindsay for a few days.

While visiting with my sisters on Thursday, I learned of an incident that happened the night before in Newmarket. My brother-in-law was visiting his father who was ill. He lives on Queen Street in Newmarket. Just as he arrived or shortly after, he and another family member heard screaming, and rushed out to find a girl being attacked, right under the lights and in town. Her neck had been cut badly at the back and also her head. The attacker fled and perhaps is still free. Makes one wonder just how safe you are to walk any night even on a well lit street in town.

The Lowe's home on the hill just up Baseline Road has a "Sold" sign on it. The Lowes will be living in the Pembroke area, since Mr. Lowe is employed in that community.

On Tuesday, a bus load of folk are going to watch "100 Huntley Street" at the television studio in Toronto. It's an early start with the bus leaving here at 6 a.m. that morning.

Paul Pilon of Moore's Lake Marina at 454-3633 would be happy to talk to you or contact the Association at Box 622, Minden, K0M 2K0. From the $15 membership, the Association pays $1 toward member's insurance, $2.50 for registration in the Federation of Snowmobilers, a subscription to Snow Sports magazine for the member and regularly mailed bulletins to tell of coming events and condition of the snowmobile trails. Members also have the right to travel on all private lands granted for use to the Association, receive a map of snowmobile trails and an embroidered crest (approximate value $2). The more than 300 miles of trails can be used every day at no extra charge and providing a member enters via Haliburton Association trails, the trails linking Baysville, Port Carling and Orillia can also be used at no additional charge. This Association is non-profit with the directors serving on a volunteer basis with a present membership of 500 including commercial members. It would seem that an association such as this would have a lot to offer an avid snowmobiler.

Sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Everett (Leona) Fountain in the recent passing of her brother, Arthur Winterburn of Bobcaygeon.

At a special meeting of the Norland Firefighters Association on Thursday, November 23, the firemen decided to purchase black outdoor jackets with a red stripe on the sleeves and a crest on the left front side. These coats will be worn by the men when attending other fire meetings such as Mutual Aid so they can be distinguished as members of Norland Firefighters Association. Although all of the men are members of Laxton, Digby and Longford Fire department, this association is an entirely separate organization with its own fund-raising programs.

A pretty short haired black cat arrived in our back yard a few days ago and I am wondering if he belongs to anyone locally. Since he hasn't returned home and was obviously hungry, I felt that I had to feed him. We already have a cat and have no desire for another, so if anyone has lost a cat or would like a friendly one that needs a home, my phone number is 454-3233.

"It used to be that a fool and his money were soon parted, now it happens to everyone."

Last Wednesday, the Dorset Seniors group were entertained by the Dorset Ranger girls, who sang campfire songs. A vote of thanks, girls, your efforts were greatly enjoyed and appreciated.

On Wednesday, December 6, there will be a pot luck supper at the Rideout Centre at 6 p.m. This will be the only meeting in December for the Seniors group with meetings starting again in January of next year.

We are happy to report that Rev. Murray Bradford is at home after spending some time in Bracebridge Hospital.

Winter came in with a rush last week leaving the ground covered with that white stuff.

It is beautiful with the sun shining on it but most people over 40 don't look forward to the cold weather and slippery streets of the winter season.

But, to quote my late mother, "what can't be cured must be endured."

The Dorset Elementary

School will be holding their Christmas concert on Thursday, December 21 at the Frost Centre.

Haliburton Highlights by Creighton Feir

We all seem to be very disturbed over the state of the economy and how it is going to effect each and everyone of us here in Haliburton County. It's not only here, but it's all over Canada. To be really honest about it, can anyone say that they are worse off today than they were, let's say, six years ago. I don't think so. In my opinion, everyone is better off today than they have been for years. All we read in the media today is all of this gloom and doom and it would appear that we as Canadians have turned into a nation of kickers who are dissatisfied with everything and we go around whining about this and whining about that. We must start to show some national pride and be thankful that we live in such a great country. Let's get the records straight, I am not saying that possibly we need a change of government but what I am saying is that things are never as black as they are painted. I would be a fool to say that everything the government is doing is right because it isn't. Some things need a shaking up and if the people aren't satisfied they will have the opportunity to say so at the next federal election.

Most of the citizens of Haliburton are now in the process of putting their colored lights up on their homes and trees for the Christmas season. May we remind everyone that it would be very much appreciated if everyone would leave their lights up until the Haliburton Winter Carnival, which will be held in February.

In conversation with Reeve Murray Fearrey the other day he told me that he is more than pleased with the large number of people who are coming to see him about their problems every Monday night when he has his office open in the Municipal Hall at Haliburton. We encourage everyone to take advantage of this opportunity to see the reeve on Monday nights as it takes away a great deal of pressure off him at his place of business.

The C.G.I.T. are holding a Vesper service on December 10 at 7 p.m. at the Haliburton United Church.

Don't forget our Christmas U.C.W. meeting to be held December 7 at 7 p.m. This is a fellowship time and each church is asked to participate in the program. If you can dance, sing or act in a play, come along and make your debut.

Last week while waiting in a doctor's office in Minden, I picked up a booklet to read. It was from Alcoholics Anonymous and made very interesting reading. Those steps must be hard to take and anyone who has mastered them is to be congratulated.

Dorothy Finch was the lucky winner of the beautiful afghan which was the prize in the raffle at Hyland Crest last week.

Don't forget this Saturday is the Christmas Bazaar at Maple Lake United Church.

BY-LAW
NO. 78-32

BEING A BY-LAW TO PROHIBIT THE RUNNING AT LARGE OF DOGS IN THE UNITED TOWNSHIPS OF DYSART, DUDLEY, HARCOURT, GUILFORD, HARBURN, BRUTON, HAVELOCK, CLYDE AND EYRE.

WHEREAS it is deemed necessary to prohibit the running at large of dogs in this municipality;

AND WHEREAS authority is granted pursuant to the Dog Licensing and Live Stock Poultry Protection Act, Chapter 133, S.7, R.S.O. 1970;

NOW THEREFORE the Municipal Council of the United Townships of Dysart et al enacts as follows:

- All dogs shall be prohibited from running at large, at any time, within the said United Townships.
- For the purpose of this By-Law, a dog shall be deemed to be under the control of a person when the dog is securely tied to a leash held by that person.
- For the purpose of this By-Law, a dog shall be deemed to be "running at large" when found in a forest lot or open space; any of the streets; highways; school grounds; parks or other public areas including lake surfaces within the said United Townships and not under the control of any person.
- For the purpose of this By-Law, the word "DOG" shall mean any dog, male or female.
- Any dog found running at large within the limits of the said United Townships, may be seized and impounded.
- Any dog seized or impounded may, after seventy-two clear hours from time of capture, if not claimed by the owner or normal harbourer of the dog, be destroyed or sold at the discretion of the By-Law Enforcement Officer.
- Every owner or normal harbourer of a dog who allows it to run at large, within the said United Townships is guilty of an offence and upon Summary Conviction is liable to a fine of not more than $50.00.
- Nothing in this By-Law shall prevent:
 - the use of any dog for hunting in legal hunting season, or
 - a farmer's dog from being allowed to run free on its owner's own property.
- By-Laws No. 1020 and No. 62-2 of the Municipality of Dysart et al are hereby repealed.

RULE

Haliburton Highlights

We are certainly disappointed in the fact that only four responses were received by a representative of the Ministry of Housing earlier this month from residents interested in the construction of rent geared to income housing for the Municipality of Dysart et al. Ontario Housing Corporation's Central Ontario Branch find it difficult to authorize construction of the housing project with such a low response. When a survey was last taken, it produced a total of 53 applications for a 23-unit housing project in Dysart et al. Of the original 53 applications, only two are still qualified for the rent geared to income housing. There must be a larger response than this if this project is to move ahead.

Our congratulations to Bill Emmerson, President of Emmerson Lumber Limited in Haliburton, who has been elected President of Dynasty Building Materials Limited of Unionville, Ontario. Bill is the first president of the new buying group and has been actively engaged in the lumber business and building materials business since 1959.

Just a reminder that a public meeting to review and discuss the recommendations of Red Cross organization concerning the hospitals in Haliburton and Minden will be conducted on Thursday, November 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the PineStone Inn. Representatives of the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council will be hosting the meeting and members of the general public are invited to attend and comment.

The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder offers its readers the opportunity to express opinions on matters of concern to the area. If there is something you would like to comment on, whether it is good or bad, send us a letter stating your case. To have a Letter to the Editor published though, it must be signed with the persons name, address and telephone number.

The Municipality of Dysart et al are doing some maintenance work on the Harburn Road, plus some brushing. As an added feature the Municipality have place in a load of gravel and put two well tile on top of a spring beside the road just beyond what is known as the Joe Carducci house. There is a hand pump on top of the well so if you are looking for some real good spring water, you'll find it here.

On Friday, December 1 at 8 p.m. there is a big night in store for you at the West Guilford Community Centre when a St. Andrew's Concert will be presented with dancers, singers, pipers and recitations. It will be a night filled with good old Scottish music and I know you won't want to miss it. The proceeds from the evening will go to the St. Andrew's Church Building Fund.

Crafty decorations of hearts and holly.

Make yourself this wreath

Here are complete instructions for a do-it-yourself hearts-and-holly wreath:

Materials needed: felt, 3/4 yard light green, 1/4 yard each red, pink, white, 2 squares dark green; 18" diameter styrofoam wreath form; 2 1/2 yards of 1 1/2" white cotton lace; pins, white glue, scissors, stapler.

Cover face of wreath form with light green felt, slashing to ease fit and bringing excess to back of wreath. Pin and glue to hold. Pin and glue lace around inner and outer edges of wreath. Make the bow: cut two red felt strips 4 1/2" wide and 10" long. Make a loop and staple pleat. Make two strips 4 1/2" wide and 7" long; make a loop and staple into pleat. Cut strips the same width, one 9" long and one 12" long; cut a V from the end of each.

Pleat and staple the opposite end from the V, and arrange with double loops forming a bow. Pin and glue to wreath form. Cover center of bow with feltstrip. Cut 7 white hearts from large size pattern; Cut 7 pink hearts from medium size pattern; Cut 7 red hearts from smallest size pattern.

Stack and glue, arrange hearts around portion of wreath uncovered by bow and space evenly. Glue in place. Cut 3/8" strips of dark green felt and glue between hearts. Cut 30 holly leaves and glue in place as shown. Cut 1/2" circles of red felt and glue as berries at base of leaves.

PATTERN FOR SMALL, MEDIUM AND LARGE SIZE HEARTS

Crafty Christmas fun! Deck the halls with hearts and holly in a colorful wreath that's as fun to make as it is to look at! The Hearts-and-Holly Wreath is made from bright felt which cuts cleanly and may be glued, sewn or fused together with ease. In fact, it's so much "fun" to make that you may want to whip up several as "festive" personal gifts!

Energy saving tips

1. Illuminate Christmas decorations from 7:00 p.m. till bedtime only.
2. Relamp existing Christmas string sets with new lower wattage lamps (i.e. for outdoor lighting use 7 watt vs. 10 watt bulbs, and for indoor lighting use 5 watt vs. 7 watt bulbs).

3. Use electric timers to control on/off cycles of Christmas lamps. (Note: electrical consumption of timers varies; check power consumption of timer before buying it.)
4. Decorate at Christmas with regular coloured lamps in the home using lower wattages than normal to save electricity while adding to the Christmas mood.
5. Tree Decoration - Place tree in a corner of the room and only decorate the visible portion with lights.
6. Turn indoor Christmas lamps on only when people are in the room.
7. Replace present 100 watt bulbs with 75 watt, 60 watt, and 40 watt bulbs wherever possible.
8. Enhance lighting effects by using reflective decorations where possible.

FRAGRANTIDEA

Bath oil is an excellent Christmas gift for the gals on your list. Aside from its obvious use, it can be for a veil of fragrance sprinkled (sparingly) into a box of loose face powder.

Artificial trees do look natural and lifelike

Today, the natural lifelike Christmas trees found in many homes are artificial. Almost one out of every four families shopping for Christmas trees is now choosing the artificial kind. The Christmas

Council estimates Christmas tree sales to surpass 1,000,000 this year and that 250,000 of these trees will be artificial. Beauty, convenience, economy, and safety are some of the many reasons why artificial trees have become so popular across North America.

There is a wide and varied collection of Christmas trees available designed to surpass the desires of even the most discriminating consumer. From the twelve inch table top model to the eight foot giant, there is a style and size for everyone.

With a minimum amount of care, these trees can last anywhere between ten to fifteen years. One just has to place the branches in layers, to prevent them from being crushed.

The artificial tree is easy to assemble and decorate. They come complete with stand, trunk and adjustable branches for individual shaping. This opens up a host of decorating ideas for the purchaser.

Consumers should look for fire retardant feature in artificial trees, and lighting specifications. For the energy conscious consumer, there is a vast array of attractive and festive minilights and a new 5 watt regular size indoor light set.

Taking into account all the advantages associated with artificial trees, it is no wonder that many people are buying more than one tree for their homes.

Christmas trees are grown to perfection

Christmas expectations always include a "perfect" tree stately, well-shaped, full-branched, fragrant. And, we imagine it will have grown to perfection deep in a quiet forest. Not so, say forestry experts.

The ideal Christmas tree seldom, if ever, exists in nature. Virtually all the 35 million evergreens used annually in Canadian homes are raised - and carefully groomed for appropriate appearance - on special Christmas tree plantations.

Five Favorites

There are about 40 varieties of Christmas evergreens. But, five or six account for almost three-quarters of the commercially-raised species.

Perennial favorites are: Balsam fir (fragrant, stays fresh longer); Douglas fir (elegant, with ornamental needles); Scotch pine (full branches, clustering needles); red pine (graceful branches with turned-up tips); and blue spruce (symmetrical, with silver-blue color).

Grown on farms

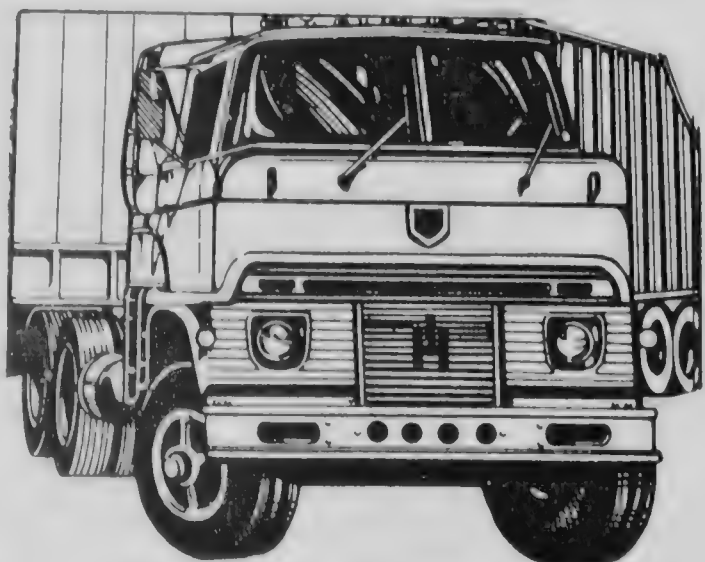

The trees are grown on some 450,000 acres of tree farms in almost every state. It takes about six to 12 years to raise a Christmas tree, and in that time a lot of work goes into the grooming process.

Foresters work almost like cosmeticians to correct esthetic faults. They may brace the tree trunk to eliminate kinks, shear branches to prevent uneven development, and prune them to encourage thicker growth. The trees are also assured just the right amount of sunlight and moisture, and protected against insects, di-

One thing everyone wants for Christmas is a "perfect" Christmas tree: beautifully-shaped, fragrant and full. Although millions of trees are used each holiday season, their use does not deplete the forests. The trees specifically grown - and specially groomed - for holiday use on Christmas tree "plantations."

Discover the creative ways of ceramic tile

by Lis King

If you like the idea of giving relatives and friends something you made yourself, it's time you discover the creative ways of ceramic tile.

You can make your project so simple it'll take but a couple of hours, or let yourself become absorbed by a really intricate project. The choice is yours. But either way you'll have created a truly personal gift that'll be appreciated every day of the year.

Convert a black or white plastic Parsons table from the dime store to a game center. Tiling the top with black and white two-by-two ceramic mosaics will do the trick.

For that matter a piece of plywood, tiled checkerboard fashion, and fitted into a good-looking frame can become a chess board, too. Now screw on four short legs, available in any hardware store, and you've got a handsome table for chess or checkers.

The tiled board-plus-frame or molding and screw-on legs will work for any occasional table for tea-for-two, cocktails, or whatever. Select the tiles first, so they'll fit the table top without any cuts. So many decorative ceramic tile designs are available, from the classic blue and white Delft-type patterns to contemporary abstracts - that you can produce a table uniquely designed to suit specific decors.

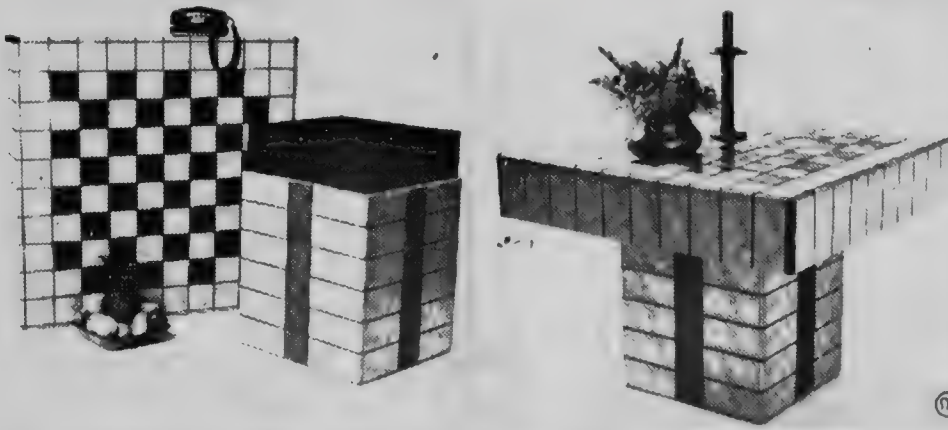

If you're artistic, the small ceramic mosaics are for you.

With them you can create special motifs: a splashy sunflower, birds in flight, a romantic square rigger, monograms, a coat of arms...use your work of art as a table top or frame it for hanging. Since ceramic tile is weather-proof, your mural could well adorn the patio.

For green-thumb buffs, build or buy planters to be tiled handsomely by you. Tile a tray, or several, to fit a plant lover's window sill...so he or she can water and mist greenery with complete confidence.

Tile trivets are terrific gifts.

Resurrect time-worn, unfashionable pieces of furniture with ceramic tile tops and an imaginative paint job. What young couple, short of

This handsome table consists of two parts: a rectangular, open box, which functions as a pedestal, and a top. Plywood plus beige and brown ceramic tile does the trick. This table is dining table height, a fabulous gift for a dedicated gourmet (and chess player). But even a scaled-down version would be a gift to be cherished by anybody.

furniture, wouldn't appreciate a sturdy dresser, for example, its shopworn beautifully covered with ceramic tile, and the rest lacquered and/or stenciled in coordinated color(s)? Picture a Chinese red chest with a white tile top. Or a Roaring Twenties oak sideboard, topped with emerald green ceramic tile, and merely polished to a golden glow for the rest.

If these ideas send your imagination flying, every garage sale suddenly becomes your personal gift bazaar.

Tiling small jobs like these is basically an easy three-step process: apply adhesive, press down tile, fill the joints with grout.

Legends surround the custom of trimming the Christmas tree

The Christmas tree and the ornaments we hang on it are German in origin and legend dates them back many centuries. St. Boniface, an English missionary who Christianized the Germanic Druids in the 7th century, supposedly toppled a holy oak of the pagans with a single blow on Christmas night. Behind the oak was a small evergreen, which the missionary explained was a holy tree, and a symbol of endless life. St. Boniface decreed that the fir was to be recognized as the tree of the Christ child.

Another legend tells that Martin Luther improvised a Christmas tree in an effort to explain to his wife and children, the impression the night sky made on him. He placed lighted candles on the branches of a fir and saw myriad stars in them!

German settlers brought the Christmas tree custom to America where it became popular in the early 1800's. The custom was so unique that for some years churches and private businesses often set up decorated trees and charged admission to view them.

Craftsmen in the Thuringian Mountains in Germany started production of delicate glass ornaments to decorate their evergreens in the mid-1870's.

By the turn of the century, the Yule tree moved from the church auditorium into the home and tree trimming became a family tradition. Electric lights and tinsel replaced candles, but many traditional trims, like popcorn and cranberry garlands, still grace fragrant trees.

Today our tree trims are as varied and personal as our people. Corn husk dolls and ornaments have been "rediscovered", and quilted, patchwork stars, animals and figures are gay and popular. Trees are hung with frosted pine cones, yarn figures, miniature toys and glazed cookie dough ornaments. In this land of endless creative talents there's no end to the imaginative directions tree trimming takes.

The wonder of Christmas is enhanced by this lovely custom and we share the special beauty it brings to a bewitching, festive season.

A touch of elegance

Jewellery for your man

Those tired old jokes about Christmas gift ties will go by the boards this holiday season as the Age of Elegance emerges for the liberated male, the Jewelry Industry Council announces.

There's a plentiful assortment of jewelry sure to take care of any gift selections you'll need for everyone from dad to brother and boyfriend, including uncle and grandpa. Beau Brummels will welcome a new bold link bracelet, a handsome neck chain pendant or charm. Choose either his zodiac sign, or if he's nautical but nice, a yacht anchor, or the currently popular 14 karat "gold brick" charms.

Mature men in your life, particularly granddads, will be thrilled with the return of the best chain for his pocket watch, or a hand y little gold pocket knife. Instead of another wallet, why not give him a silver or gold money clip in the shape of a dollar sign, or a hammered gold clip that conceals a miniature nail file.

Now that torn T-shirts are passe, and blue jeans are fast fading away, he'll welcome cufflinks to set off his favorite dress shirts. They range all the way from silver and gold to colorful stone mosaics that

Plan your Christmas budget

Ease the financial pressures

Now that the holiday season has arrived, chances are you're spending much of your time - and money - exchanging gifts and going on family get-togethers. These seasonal expenses can put a strain on most family budgets if you haven't done your financial planning in advance.

These are several methods you can use to prepare for such special occasions and gift purchases so that you and your family will not be forced to give up any of the day-to-day necessities.

Three methods

One way to finance the holidays is to save. It sounds simple, and it is - as long as you discipline yourself to save a few dollars from each paycheck over a period of time.

Another way to gather extra dollars for the holidays is commonly referred to as "moonlighting." Take on a part-time job for a few months, or, perhaps, work some overtime hours where you are normally employed. Then use the extra money for those seasonal expenditures that you anticipate.

A third method involves consumer credit. This is an alternative that is frequently used to cope with holiday needs.

Financial counseling specialists at the National Consumer Finance Association point out that credit can be a valuable financial tool that allows you to make desired purchases when you really want or need them. Payment is then handled out of regular budget allowances over a predetermined period of time.

Credit, of course, costs money, so the specialists suggest that you borrow only when the benefits of doing so are worth the cost.

And, avoid using credit to such an extent that you owe more money than you can reasonably expect to pay back out of your present and future income.

Shop carefully for credit, just as you do for holiday gifts. You'll want to turn to a reliable lending source. Consumer finance companies specialize in personal loans of this type.

Ask questions

In any case, ask a lot of questions of your lender so you clearly understand everything about your particular transaction. Make sure you've read your contract before you sign it.

In short, whether you decide to save the money in advance, take on a part-time job, or borrow funds from a reliable lender, remember to work out a financial plan that will lead you and your wallet through the holiday season and into the new year most comfortably.

Lift holiday spirits with lead crystal decanters and coordinating barware in classic, hand-cut patterns. An elegant gift to give...or get... this holiday season!

Donut decorations to make

Children will have fun hanging a tree branch with edible ornaments they've created by transforming frozen mini donuts into faces, flowers, animals, clowns.

Any leafless tree branch, or trimmings from the family Christmas tree, will do. Just secure the branch in a needlepoint flower holder, then hide the holder by heaping with pink Sno Balls.

Branches can be spray painted or coated with white shoe polish, then left to dry while busy fingers decorate donuts.

A simple frosting, made by combining one cup confectioner's sugar with one tablespoon milk, may be used to secure the candies to the donuts, or buy any decorator icing and use it both on the donuts and to draw faces and bows on the candies.

If you have difficulty making the frosting stick, scrape away sugar on the mini donut and try again.

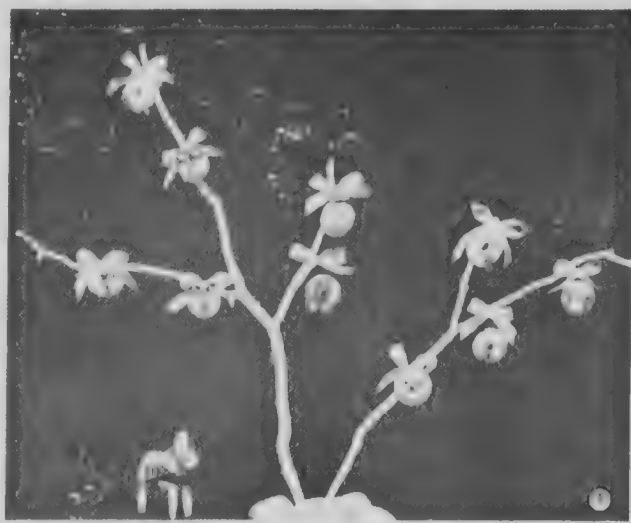

The ornaments can be hung from the branch with paper clips which have been spread open so that one part hooks over the branch and the other hooks into the donut.

Or they can be tied on with ribbon or with invisible plastic thread.

Just set out a supply of raisins, nuts, flat candy minuts, cinnamon red hots, coconut, cake decorations, jelly beans, life savers, corn candy, gum drops, chocolate chips, or whatever you have on hand. The children will have fun using their imaginations and you'll have a true piece of original Christmas art.

Keep the kids out of Santa's hair! Let them trim miniature donuts for a mini-tree.

Tree decorating

A joyful family task

Of the many holidays we observe, Christmas is the most family-oriented. And the joyful task of decorating the Christmas tree is one that everyone enjoys especially when each one can make a personal contribution.

From simple paper chains which the youngest member of the family can make to the more intricate ornaments, hand-made decorations add a special mood to your tree that are a true reflection of your family and the holiday's celebration.

To get your imagination going, here are several suggestions for easy to make ornaments.

Personalize ornaments by using photos of your family and friends. Start with a styrofoam ball. Cut out the portion of the picture you plan to use. Since torn fit the ball better, tear ragged edges around the photo before gluing to ball. Cover the rest of the ornament with torn bits of tissue, foil or colorful wrapping paper. Brush with clear plastic to coat the decoration.

Trim with velvet ribbon, chubby yarns or gold braid and bows. Attach a loop for the hanger with a straight pin, imbedded below the surface of the ball.

You might want to vary these ornaments with scenes from Christmas cards or holiday wrapping paper.

Another attractive decoration is a cone ball. You can use one color, several colors, patterned papers or two tones of paper glued together to give a multi-color effect.

To make this ornament, cut out about 16 circles. Cut them in half. Using the straight edge as the base, form a cone. Secure the end with double-faced tape or glue. Take a piece of string and make a knot in one end. Draw the string through the center of one cone to form the hanger.

Complete the rest of the cones and with glue or double-faced tape, join them, row upon row, until a layered ball is formed.

Hang the ornament as is or add sparkle by covering the edges lightly with white glue and dipping into glitter.

The size of the circles will determine the size of your ornaments. Mix colors, sizes and patterns for a colorful look for your tree.

You might also want to combine the balls with other ornaments shaped like candy canes, angels, snowflakes, candles, partridges or other birds, poinsettias or even your own pets.

Cut the desired shapes from cardboard, outline the shapes with ribbons and yarns. Add detailing with bits of colorful wrapping papers, glitter or sequins.

Add a hanger and place on the tree. Mix with strings of popcorn, cranberries, paper chains or tinsel.

You can probably think of additional variations of these basic ornaments, involve the whole family in the tree trimming and create a tree that will be a truly unique family expression for this year's Christmas observance.

Holiday drinks that warm up the crowd!

Holiday parties call for something a little more spectacular than ordinary cocktail party bar fixings. You'll find these recipes for hot and cold drinks the answer, whether you're having friends in for dinner, a festive midnight supper of a great big "invite everybody" open house. They're sure to add a spirited touch to that extra special occasion.

TRADITIONAL SYLLABUB

1 cup whipping cream
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup brandy

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

In large mixer bowl or electric blender, blend cream and sugar at low speed. Add brandy, lemon juice, and egg whites last. Continue mixing at low speed for 2 or 3 more minutes. Serve promptly, refrigerating any leftovers. Makes 3 cups.

WINE-TEA PUNCH

3% cups chilled strong tea
2-6 oz. cans frozen limeade
1-4/5 bottle of chilled white dinner wine
1/4 to 1/2 cup sugar, according to taste
Mint sprigs

Ice Block or lots of Ice Cubes

Combine first four ingredients, stirring until sugar is completely dissolved and limeade is thawed. Pour into punch bowl over previously frozen block of ice. Serve over cubes in tall, slim glasses garnished with mint sprigs. Makes two quarts of liquid. If you're having a really big crowd double the recipe and reserve half in a pitcher to be used as needed.

RED ZIPPER

4 cups vegetable juice
Dash of Tabasco or hot pepper sauce
Juice of 1 lemon
1/8 tsp. celery seed
1/2 cup butter
2 cups dry sherry
Lemon slices

Combine first four ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point over medium heat, stirring all the while. Add butter and wine and pour into warmed punch bowl. Serve garnished with lemon slices in punch cups. Yield 1 1/2 quarts. Skoal!

Freeze in advance for holiday entertaining

Crafty Christmas hostesses will get a jump on the holiday season and all of the extra work that it brings by starting early to prepare and freeze their favorite holiday dishes.

Cakes, cookies and hors d'oeuvres can all be frozen well in advance of Christmastime so there's never any worry of being unprepared for those unexpected get-togethers.

They'll fit right in next to ol' Tom Turkey - ready and waiting for his pre-banquet thaw!

A word of advice: don't let all of your good intentions be ruined by last minute confusion. Be sure to mark all of your items before placing them in the freezer.

Choosing gifts for liberated

This Christmas it might be a good idea to reconsider the gifts you're contemplating giving in this age of liberation for both men and women. Male and female roles are no longer so rigidly defined.

Today many men enjoy whipping up a gourmet meal, while there are women happily wielding saws and electric drills around the house. Appliances from blenders to coffee makers make particularly good gifts that are easy to operate for bachelors who are not very adept at domestic chores.

your list who are single, why not select a gift that once might have been considered "for men only". A basic tool kit or fix-it book will probably be greeted with a hearty "right on!"

BIG WAYS

TO SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS

New babies like Christmas

New baby in the house? Christmas is a more special time for baby than one would expect.

Long before a child begins to walk and talk, he or she is responding to all varieties of sights and sounds, each of which is a very important learning experience.

So pull out Christmas records, pin up colorful decorations, light the tree early and gather 'round it - and let the baby of the family absorb all the joy of this wonderful season!

Children love stories, and what better time is there than Christmas for the whole family to share in some old-fashioned tale-telling?

Starting a week or so before Christmas, set up an after-dinner story hour. You might want to research the Christmas customs of different countries for an armchair holiday tour. Or select a good Christmas storybook and read a chapter a night.

You'll be surprised to see the closeness and warmth that such a quiet hour together can bring, and it will make Christmas a richer, more meaningful experience for both you and the young ones.

Ideas for do-it-yourselfers

Wallcoverings can make crafty gifts

If you've got some pieces of wallcovering left over from your last decorating project, let them inspire you to craft some terrific Christmas gifts. And if you don't have any left-over pieces, buy a roll or two.

Here, from the Wallcovering Information Bureau, are some gift ideas that can be handled by most anybody with less than three thumbs.

Dress up a dime store-bought desk set. Give the blotter a wallcovering insert, cover a pencil jar to match. A small calico pattern will be terrific for a colonial desk.

Give an old lamp a new lease on life with a prettily covered shade.

Wallcoverings in such patterns as vintage newsprint, poster art, military prints, and handsome grasscloths can convert a wastebasket into something very special.

Take advantage of the wealth of wallcovering patterns available to create custom placemats.

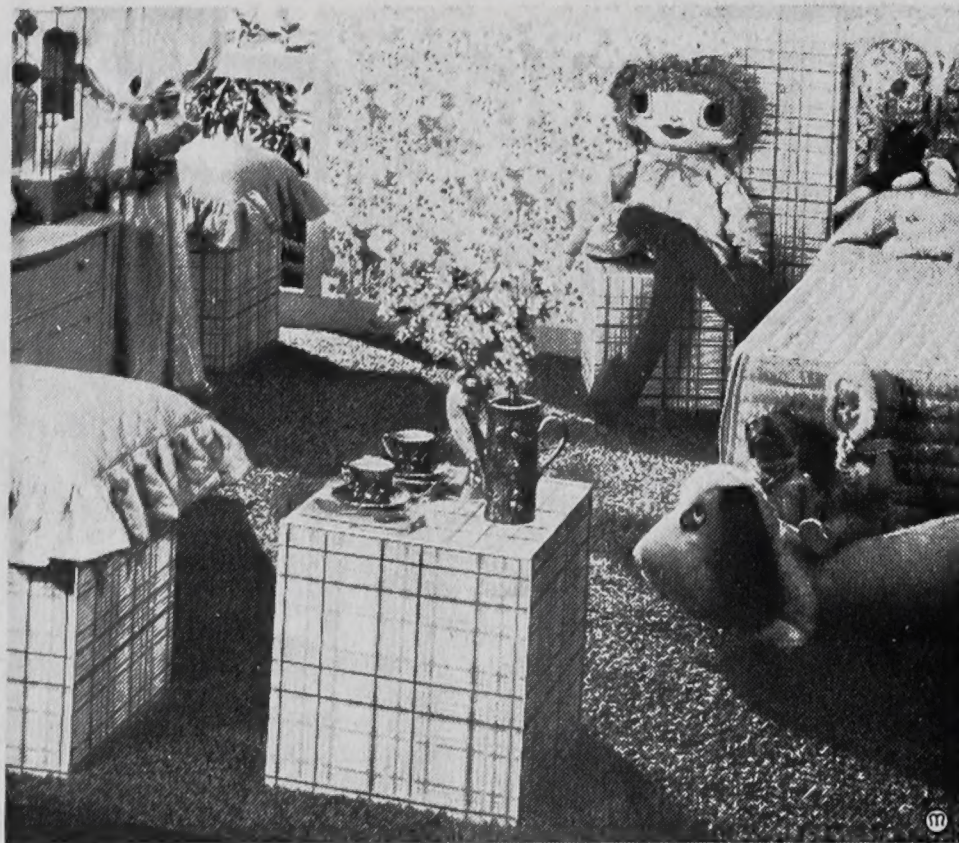

Anybody, from student to homemaker, can use a two-drawer file. Half a roll of wallcovering can make even a battered old cabinet a handsome issue.

Know somebody who's a bug on organization? Then give him or her a set of storage boxes, covered with calico, plaid, paisley, stripes, flowers, or a textured pattern. What female wouldn't appreciate closet organizers covered with a wall design simulating water - marked silk?

Most anybody can use a folding screen to divide a room, hide clutter, or furnish a corner. Three pieces of playwood, hinged together, and treated to the pattern power of wallcoverings will do the trick.

More items to cover with wall fashions, for gift giving or to keep: small Parsons or cube tables; mirror or picture frames; magazine files; the phone book; tissue boxes; book shelves; an old footlocker, desk or dresser; window shades; tool and sewing boxes. Your imagination is the only limit.

Cube tables, prettied up with a plaid wallcovering, are great gifts for young ladies ages six to sixteen. Plop a cushion on top of the cube, and you've got extra seating.

Santa As A Sky Pilot: Bearded St. Nick uses an early flying machine for a delivery of toys. This Christmas card published in 1915 is from the Hallmark Cards Historical Collection.

Santa's Pennyfarthing bicycle cutting through the snow on a card made in the late 19th century by L. Prang, father of the American Christmas card. From the Hallmark Cards Historical Collection.

Antique cards show Santa's frosty trip

Santa's mode of transportation wasn't always as light-footed as his eight happy reindeer. Matter of fact, Santa didn't meet up with Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Comet, Blitzen, Donder, Cupid and Vixen until 1822, when Clement Clark Moore penned his popular poem "The Night Before Christmas."

Before the Reformation, Dutch children pictured St. Nick riding about on his pony "Swarte Piet" (Black Pete). The Pennsylvania Dutch turned the animal into a white mule and called the rider Kriss Kringle!

Antique cards in the Hallmark Cards Historical Collection, show Santa riding everything from a rocket ship to a "Pennyfarthing" - essentially a unicycle with a small back wheel. The father of the American Christmas card, Louis Prang, showed Santa pedaling through the snow with a holly branch in hand and reindeer in pursuit.

A 1909 postcard pictures St. Nick at the helm of a ship, one from 1915 shows him flying an open airplane. Even contemporary cards portray jolly Santa getting around in a variety of ways, from motor bike to reindeer.

Santa himself has been portrayed in many shapes and sizes. He is alternately pictured in Christmas archives as a white bearded, priestly looking man, a black bearded buccaner, a roly-poly elf and a gaunt old man!

Whatever his means of transportation, Santa is Santa, beaming and jolly, and Christmas would surely not be the same without him!

"SCENTSIBLE"

A lovely fragrance is one of the most popular gifts of any season. Christmas is the perfect time to indulge your favorites with any number of heady delights.

Easy does it with a new pet

Your son has a dog, so now your daughter says she'd like one, too. And you think it would be a nice Christmas gift for her.

The first rule is not to wait for Christmas Day to present her with a new pet, be it dog, cat or hamster. That festive day is no time to bring any new animal into a household.

The second rule is careful preparation. An established animal has certain territorial rights that he is not about to give up easily or quickly to a newcomer.

The easiest way to get the two animals to a friendly position is to keep the new one in a room to itself while the older pet has the run of the house. Give them time to get accustomed to each other's smell.

If possible, place their feeding bowls on opposite sides of the closed door.

After a few days, let the two animals meet. Don't scold the older one if he shows a tendency to fight; it's his right to protect himself and his hearth. Play with them both for a few minutes and then separate them again.

match up with tie pins and bars.

And of course, don't forget pocket lighters that are slimmer and trimmer than ever this season, with cigarette cases to match.

And another thing. Don't say we didn't warn you - unless you don't mind his clattering up the dresser top and drawers with his growing jewelry collection, you'd better give him a roomy jewelry box of his own this holiday season.

Battery hints

A new set of batteries for the transistor set "to put new life in your listening" is worth considering as a stocking stuffer gift. Choose the best of the long-lasting batteries and be sure you get the right sizes for the right model.

Basic buying tips from consumers

When consumers write, it pays to listen. Unsolicited consumer mail probably tells companies more about what the public really wants (and expects to find) in new products than most costly research ever reveals.

One electric shaver company - a new entry in the field just this year - received some eye-openers from consumers after the first announcements of their new shaver appeared in print.

Since more electric shavers will probably be sold during this year's gift-buying seasons than in any previous year (say the marketing experts), and since 70 per cent of all electric shavers are bought as gifts (mostly by the gals), the consumer comments received by the shaver company provide some good examples of what the boys really want in a shaver.

With these typical consumer remarks in mind, and with gift shopping staring everyone in the face, here are ten basic buying tips on what to look for in a quality electric shaver that has it all:

A foil shaving head, as slender as possible (shaves skin-close, fits facial contours).

Platinum - coated foil (shaving comfort, no shaver burn).

Overall slender design (good balance, fit, handling).

Built-in sideburn and mustache trimmer.

Long-life motor. Tough, virtually unbreakable housing.

Dual-voltage, for use in foreign countries.

Detachable cord which fits into bottom (not side) of shaver.

Full warranty on motor. Availability of replacement foils from your dealer.

Last, but by no means least, make your purchase through one of your better local retailers. The finest shavers are carried by the better department stores, fine jewelry, gift, men's specialty and luggage/leather goods shops, and certain independent drugstores.

A little imagination and basic sewing skills needed

Make inexpensive gifts

Christmas giving can be creative, yet inexpensive, through the use of that popular household appliance, the sewing machine.

"With a little imagination and just some basic sewing skills, you can make Christmas gifts for everyone on your list," according to Mary Schoonover, national director of Sears sewing schools.

As an illustration, Schoonover listed six items for a typical family which can be made for less than $25 in all. Included are a custom tie (in Dad's favorite pattern and shade), clothes for sister's miniature doll collection, a new bib (with an illustration of baby brother's favorite animal), a shoulder bag for mom, a pillow for the grandparents of the family and a Yule wreath for the family's front door or fireplace.

"Creativity is what really counts," Schoonover said. "There are many patterns available in stores today covering basic construction. You, the creator, then add the personal touch."

Think of your sewing machine as doing much, much more than making wearing apparel, she said. Use it for making placemats and matching napkins, duffel bags, bedspreads, foam-stuffed furniture, rugs, hassocks, and toys like punching balls, foam baby blocks and bean bags.

One of the most colorful decorations you can make is a Yule wreath. It requires less than a yard of fabric and no pattern and it can even be made out of remnants. Schoonover described how to make it in six easy steps:

1. Cut three strips of fabric 4 inches by 45 inches. (Consider red, yellow and green prints) Cut another strip of fabric (in the same red or green) 6 inches by 45 inches. If necessary, sew the fabric together to get a 45-inch length.

2. Sew each of the four strips lengthwise into a tube and turn the fabric right side out.

3. Cut 3 3/4 yards of 1 to 1 1/4 inch bedspread cording into equal parts and pull through the three tubes. Other filler can also be used.

4. Sew together one end of the three tubes and braid them.

5. After sewing the remaining ends of the three braided tubes together, shape the braid into a circle and sew it to maintain a circular shape.

6. Tie the fourth tube around the wreath, covering the sewn-together ends, and make a decorative bow.

Schoonover says you can use the wreath as an outside decoration if you protect it with a weather-proofing spray.

Although basic sewing skills are essential to making the Christmas crafts, Schoonover pointed to the many manufacturers who have made the consumer's job even easier through the introduction of new features such as a decorative stitch cams, automatic buttonholers and free-arm design.

A wreath made of remnant fabric can brighten a Yule door or a fireplace. With less than a yard of fabric, a little cording and some basic sewing skills, you can make the wreath in less than an hour, according to Sears' sewing school expert.

Gifts for the entire family - from children to grandparents - can be made quickly and inexpensively on a free arm sewing machine. It gets into tight places and is perfect for small doll clothes and children's apparel.

SPARK WITH SPRIGS

To spark up a holiday home, ask your local florist for some sprigs of eucalyptus. These dried branches make an attractive arrangement, and their fresh, almost pine-like fragrance will freshen the rooms for months.

A treasured gift

Dolls: for your lady

Dolls are the all-time favorites of girls all over the world: dolls to cuddle, dolls to mother, dolls to dress up, dolls to love and treasure.

In fact, the doll, the quality doll, is much more than just another toy. It is a true heirloom, a treasure to be passed on from generation to generation with love and joy.

This Christmas, don't overlook the possibility of giving your little girl a doll that she may enjoy for a lifetime to come.

And don't forget that those not-so-little girls, teenagers, mothers, aunts and grandmothers, will all share in the delight that a beautiful doll, a true work of art, can bring.

To start a doll collection for your favorite lady, you might wish to check the magnificent lines of dolls, both commercially and handmade.

No matter which doll you choose as a gift for your lady, it is certain to be a source of love, pride, and delight to her for years to come - a tiny tribute to her own lovely graces!

Gifts the little ones make themselves

When you give a gift you make yourself it shows you really care. Surprise mom and dad, or a special friend, with a set of brightly colored coasters or a gay Christmas tree ornament! They're a snap to make and you'll probably find the supplies right around the house. If not, they cost very little to buy.

Things you need: Corrugated cardboard, Christmas gift wrap or cards, white glue, colored yarn if making decorations, paint brush, varnish and scissors.

Cut a circle from the cardboard, about 3-3/4 inches in size. Trace around the rim of a wide glass or jar for this. You need 1 circle for each coaster or ornament. Cut same size circle from the gift wrap or colored greeting card and glue onto cardboard circle, pressing down from center to outer edges. When glue is dry apply 1 coat of varnish - let dry overnight. (Clean the varnish brush after you use it so it doesn't get hard). You now have a pretty waterproof coaster. A set of four makes a handsome gift!

If you want to make tree decorations, continue as follows: Glue colored yarn around edge of finished coaster. Cut a 5 inch piece of matching or other color yarn and glue onto back of coaster making a loop at the top. Now it's ready to hang on your tree or to give!

Plenty of water
When you get the tree home, make a fresh diagonal cut in the stump end to allow greater absorption of water. Be sure water in the tree stand remains above the cut. Place the tree away from all heat sources: radiator, ducts, even the T.V.

Safety checks
Keep safety in mind. Be sure there are no exposed wires or frayed insulation on the light strands, and no cracked or broken light sockets. After Christmas, you may want to saw the trunk into fragment firewood. But, never burn a bundle of branches in the fireplace.

Instead, use the tree limbs and needles for mulch to help your springtime garden grow.
If you're ecologically-minded, remember that Christmas evergreens use only solar energy to grow. But manufacturing artificial trees from plastic or aluminum requires use of oil and electricity.
